MOMENTOUS REMEMBRANCE DAY HIGHLIGHT

Legionnaires honored before 250 at banquet

Three veterans of world wars joined the ranks of men receiving distinguished recognition from the Canadian Legion Branch No. 27 yesterday afternoon when before some 250 dinner guests Legionnaires Graham Alexander, F. D. Hardy and W. J. Rance were presented with special awards.

The momentous occasion took place at the annual "Remembrance Day" banquet held in the Armoury, when veterans of world wars, active and reserve members of the three armed services together with special guests, gathered to reminisce and observe the ending of hostilities.

"For your loyal support over many years particularly for your work on the hospital visiting committee during the past 10 years I present you with this life membership," Legion past-president James Nicoll told Mr. Hardy.

W. J. Rance, who for almost 40 years has served the branch as "Bugler" was presented with a certificate of merit along with Mr. Alexander "for giving freely of your time and energy."

"Mr. Alexander is now compiling the history of the Branch," Mr. Nicoll said.

NOSTALGIC SONGS

While it was a day to remember for the three veterans, it was a day of "Remembrance" for all as guest speakers reminded their listeners of the full significance of the day; as "Old Sweats" and young veterans swapped tales across the tables, which were ladened with hot banquet fare; and as a variety of nostalgic songs were sung with abounding enthusiasm.

Banquet chairman Stanley Veitch introduced guest speakers Colonel S. D. Johnston (ret.) honorary president of the Legion branch No. 27; Sidney Kirk, vice-president provincial command and Mayor Peter J. Lester.

Receiving resounding applause for program highlights were W. D. Smith, who gave a fine rendition of "In Flanders Fields," Mrs. Arthur Ostler's solo "Vienna City of Dreams" and John Stewart's selection named "Jazz."

MLA William H. Murray, Douglas McRae and Mayor Lester singing in harmony were enthusiastically applauded and the community singing was led by Mrs. Michael Karasosky with Mrs. J. S. Black accompanying the selections at the piano.

Mrs. William Rothwell was conevener of the banquet assisted by members of the Ladies auxiliary to the branch.

Major J. C. Ewart piped in the head table guests who were Robert Sim, president of the Branch No. 27; Col. Johnston; Mr. Kirk; MLA Murray; Mayor Lester; Lt.-Cmdr. D. M. Waters, Commanding Officer of HMCS Fortune; Lt.-Cmdr. E. W. K. McLeod, C/O of HMCS Chatham; Dr. R. W. K. Elliott, protestant padre for the Legion; Mrs. J. S. Black, Ladies auxiliary zone commander provincial command; Mrs. Charles Morrow, president of the LA; RCMP Staff Sergeant J. F. Gregory; Captain E. T. S. Moore, officer commanding "D" Company Irish Fusiliers of Canada (Vancouver Regiment); Lt.-Cmdr. W. R. Wilson, C/O of HMCS Cowichan; Mr. Nicoll; Lt.-Cmdr. H. K. Niven, HMCS Miramichi C/O; John Laurie, parade marshall; Mrs. Dorothy Ballinger, vice-president of the LA and Rev. D. R. Chassels of St. Peter's Anglican church. Rev. James Tracey, Roman Catholic padre to the Legion was unable to attend.

Rock removed amazes former blaster

Looking over Prince Rupert yesterday and marvelling at the amount of rock that has been removed since "the early days" was William Dadson, onetime blaster and powder man with the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

Mr. Dadson who first came to this city in 1906 and worked on the construction of the GTP, now lives in Toronto. One of his main reasons for coming to the Skeena District, he said, is to get away from the eastern Canada winters.

He is visiting at the moment with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fiehn of Terrace but may, he said, "stay around all winter."

Mr. Dadson also left two photographs of Prince Rupert in 1908 for use in the city's 1960 Jubilee book now being assembled.

Frozen Apple Pies Spell Dessert In Any Language

FROZEN APPLE PIES SPELL DESSERT IN ANY LANGUAGE

"Desservir" is the French spelling of our English word "dessert". To the French, this means to "clear away" reflecting that it is something which is served after the dishes have been removed from the table. Keeping this meaning in mind, it is easy to see why "dessert" builds up an air of excitement. What is coming next? In this particular case frozen individual apple pies are the long awaited surprise.

Each of these pies is a "golden gift" dessert and it's only a matter of about 30 minutes in the oven before you'll see why. Golden in colour . . . top medalist in flavour and texture . . . they disappear like magic.

Times for serving frozen individual apple pies are unlimited because they can play a large role in afternoon or evening refreshments, too. For instance, a plate with an individual apple pie with ice cream and a garnish of salted nuts, is surely a witness to good eating anytime. Make your beverage cider . . . either plain and "chilled" or follow a favourite recipe for hot mulled cider for the days holding chilly autumn breezes. Serve it in mugs with cinnamon stick stirrers. It's such a pleasant way to say welcome to all of your friends.

Fill your prettiest tureen with a hearty chowder, like this: Combine 1 can each condensed bean with bacon and tomato soup. Add 2 soup cans water and a can of Vienna sausage. It's a perfect Sunday night supper served with cheese and thick slices of pumpernickel bread.

Bright . . . and colourful . . . and simply delicious is a perfect description for the combination of 2 cans condensed vegetable beef soup, 1 can condensed tomato soup with 2½ soup cans of water. Serve a large tureen at your next buffet supper. Makes plenty of soup for 6.

Children love canned condensed cream of chicken soup. Try it with some process cheese spread added for a welcome change. It's an easy and nourishing lunch served with favourite sandwiches and an apple to eat-out-of-hand.

Here's a hearty soup so good for a chilly November night. Add 1 cup flaked tuna to a can each of condensed cream of asparagus and mushroom soups blended with 2 cans of milk for 4 generous servings.
