Opening lead: Queen of ♦

The play in today's hand, taken from a recent team-of-four match, presents an interesting problem. While both teams succeeded on different lines of play in bring home 12 tricks, the North - South pair at one table were content to stop at a game contract.

The opening lead was the queen of diamonds and, since a diamond trick must be lost at all events, declarer permitted West to hold the trick. The suit was continued and declarer won with the ace. In order to dispose of the second diamond loser South was now under compulsion to try the club finesse, which succeeded. The ace of clubs then provided a parking place for the losing diamond. Even after this bit of luck, there remained work to be done. If trumps are extracted declarer will be at the mercy of a three-three spade break. Unwilling to rely on this improbable distribution, declarer sought a safer means of bringing home the contract. He observed that dummy's hearts were good enough to draw the enemy trumps, provided they were divided three-two. So he set about to ruff North's three losers (two diamonds and a club) with South's high trumps. Dummy was eventually re-entered with the king of spades in order to draw the last trump with the queen of hearts, as declarer discarded his fourth spade.

At the other table play proceeded in a similar manner until the point where the club finesse had been taken. Here too, declarer refused to rely on a three-three spade break and employed a somewhat different technique. He drew only two rounds of trumps and then tried the spades. When spades proved to be three-three he drew the remaining trump and claimed the tricks. If spades had been divided four-two it would have been futile to draw trumps, for a spade loser would be inevitable. But declarer afforded himself an added chance in case of a four-two split. If the player with the four spades also has the remaining trump, declarer can cash three high spades and ruff the fourth with dummy's queen of hearts.

Family Fun Tops at Seattle!

SEATTLE'S GALA SEAFAIR FESTIVAL will present its twelfth year of maritime fun and frolic July 28 through August 6 with another full program of hi-jinks for young and old. In the upper panel (left to right) power-packed unlimited hydroplanes emit a throaty roar and foamy "roostertail" spray for the $40,000 World's Championship Seafair Trophy Race on Lake Washington, Sunday, August 6. The Seafair Royalty is seen in its colorful pagentry as the Queen and King Neptune are feted at the Coronation Ball, while the devilish Pirates romp with their pet gorilla. The center panel (l. to r.) pictures the Seafair Grande Parade wending its way before 200,000 onlookers on Saturday, July 29. A glamorous water and stage spectacle is nightly entertainment during Seafair, as the beautiful outdoor lakeside Aqua Theatre presents Aqua Follies, July 27 through August 9. In the insets are Broadway singing star, John Raitt (upper left) star of the Aqua Theatre musical Oklahoma, July 5-9; Tom Brown, all-America gridder from the Vancouver Lions, who will lead the latter against the Saskatchewan Roughriders in Seattle's first Canadian pro game on Saturday, July 29; and Don Ameche, famed stage, radio, television and motion picture star, who will be seen in the delightful spoof of Moscow—Silk Stockings, July 19-22. The lower panel pictures the annual arrival of the "Redcoats," Canada's illustrious Mounted Police, Seafair Royalty welcoming the U.S. Fleet, Thursday, August 3, and the Japanese community's picturesque Bon Odori festival. It all adds up to a terrific family vacation.
