

THE SPECTRE BY THE RAILS; DEADLY RISKS OF GRADE CROSSINGS

"The accident occurred on a grade crossing" is the statement offered in explanation of an Ohio tragedy in which six persons were killed and two other persons seriously injured. Grade crossings offer a serious problem in every part of Canada today.

With the increased use of the automobile the people are returning to the public highways. Sometimes it is a matter of pleasure, of wholesome outdoor recreation, of getting away from the stress and tension of life's duller cares, and sometimes it is a matter of business necessity. The machine is here; it is here to stay, and the demand is for good roads, particularly in the vicinity of the little and large centres of population.

Along with the demand for good roads must go the demand for safe roads. Good roads that are not safe are not good roads at all. Roads marred by death traps are bad roads, regardless of what it may cost to build them, and it would be better to close them than to pay the price we must pay for using them.

The problem of grade crossings is going to be a national problem, and we may as well face it. Conditions in Canada are no worse than they are in other and older lands. But it is not enough to admit the fact. Conditions in Canada are worse than they ought to be. They ought to be better in this new country than they are elsewhere. Our highways should be safer than they are elsewhere. It is a rugged country, beautifully, inspiringly rugged, and for that very reason is attractive to tourists. We want tourists. That is one reason why we are spending so much money to perfect our system of public highways. And we want tourists, no less than our own people, to be safe when they use the highways of the country.

Hart's Removal Sale

This landmark is GOING, GOING, and soon will be gone. It WAS the first store in town and still is. We figured out what the cost of removal would be; we considered the damage that would be done to our goods and then we decided that our customers would have the benefit.

When you understand our position you also understand why we sell so cheaply.

There will be no cessation of bargains till every article has been disposed of, but you can't always buy things at half price and our offer may not last much longer.

SO COME TODAY

We have a special attraction in Teapots; 1,000 in 50 different styles; now selling almost half price. They can be seen on Sixth street window.

NATIONAL DREADNOUGHT POKER GAME

New York, Aug. 5.—The World under the heading "Dreadnought Poker," says:

"Winston Churchill has made the whole pretty poker-game of nations perfectly clear.

"England opened the 1242 jack-pot for three new 1344 ships a year. Germany came in and made it one more battle-ship to play. England now sees the raise and makes it five battleships to play. And all this before drawing cards!

"Uncle Sam, looking at his perfectly peaceful hand, reckons he will drop out of this 1912 jack-pot and let the others go as far as they like.

"Immediately shrill cries arise from the jingo spectators sitting at his elbows. "Don't be a piker! 'Be a sport!' 'Get into the game,' resound through the elegant international gambling room.

"But a few old-fashioned hayseeds draw: 'Remember the mortgage, Sam, and don't throw away your money.'

"Uncle Sam tugs at his goatee, poker is such a tempting game."
