CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS
—by Byrne Hope Sanders

MONTREAL, November 26th—First step on my Christmas shopping expedition? Why, "My Bank", of course! That's where I tick off some of those special names that used to give me so much trouble. For those out-of-town nephews and nieces, for instance, I've solved the problem by giving gay, holly-decorated BANK OF MONTREAL Christmas Gift Cheques or Money Orders in their brightly coloured folders and envelopes. And I'm starting several small-fry off on the right foot—with B of M Savings Accounts. The special passbooks in their gay covers lend a cheery seasonal touch to these practical gifts. If you can't think of the right gift for the "hard-to-choose-for", think of "MY BANK" for a "money-gift" with a real Christmas flavour. Your neighbourhood B of M has quite a selection.

HERE'S A MIRACLE OF FLAVOR that suits modern tastes to a T . . . I mean MIRACLE WHIP by Kraft. I prefer the large, economical 32-ounce jar because I use Miracle Whip constantly in all my fruit and vegetable salads and in a variety of sandwich fillings. And the more I use it, the more sure I am that there's nothing else like Miracle Whip! Its good taste is unique . . . it has a light and lively flavor that enhances other flavors without overwhelming them. Get the large, 32-ounce economy-size jar of Miracle Whip. It's so popular, you can be sure it's always fresh when you buy it!

ALL THE MOTHERS I'VE TALKED TO are delighted with the beautiful colored Bird Cards that come FREE in every package of RED ROSE TEA and COFFEE. They're something extra for the children—something to keep them busy even when the weather's bad. And now there's a special illustrated album to mount the cards. A full 20 pages about birds for only 25c—from your grocer, or direct from Red Rose—Dept. N 1, Brooke Bond Canada Limited, 6201 Park Avenue, Montreal 8, Quebec. Look for Red Rose Tea or Coffee when you shop. Get the extra bonus for grown-ups too—the full-bodied flavor of Red Rose Tea and Coffee.

FLAVOUR MAGIC! NO TRICK at all to bring that subtle gourmet touch to all your cooking—with MAGGI Bouillon Cubes, a concentrate of chicken flavour. I say "all" your cooking—because you can use Maggi Cubes magically in so many ways. Add dissolved Maggi Cubes to your vegetable, meat or chicken casseroles for over-tones of delectable flavour. Drop 2 or more Maggi Cubes in boiling water before adding rice—and oh! how good it is. You'll find a large cup of steaming hot Maggi Chicken Bouillon at bed-time brings sound sleep, sooner. (Only 4 calories per serving, too.) Look for the red and yellow Maggi package!

A NEW TREAT FOR GUESTS! Next time friends drop in unexpectedly and you're enjoying the TV . . . serve them something new—Green Olive Spread whipped up with AYLMER MANZANILLA Olives. Combine half a cup of mashed sardines with a tablespoonful of mayonnaise and a little lemon juice. Add a dozen chopped Aylmer Stuffed Manzanilla Olives—and use as a sandwich spread. Aylmer Olives are always special—the Plain Queen, Stuffed Queen, or Manzanilla. You can get them in ice-box jars in handy sizes. So—whether for family pleasure, or guest delight—make it Aylmer Olives!

WHY SO CHEERY, PRETTY LADY? I'd like to wager you're happy because you've given your family a piping hot breakfast, and given them the best you know—RED RIVER CEREAL. Hope so, anyway, because Red River is really good for old, young, and middle-aged. We all enjoy its nutty, wholesome blend of cracked wheat, rye and flax—as nourishing as it's delicious. Red River brings energy values to youngsters and active workers—and guards regularity for older folk, or sedentary workers. Easy to prepare—cooks in a few minutes. Red River costs so little, too!

SO MUCH OF GOOD HEALTH . . . lies in good nutrition! And that, m'dears, means serving nutritious foods like BLUE BONNET MARGARINE, all the time! Remember that Blue Bonnet is now and always has been made from the finest ingredients . . . pure vegetable oils and pasteurized skim milk, with Vitamins A and D added. That's the reason you'll find that Blue Bonnet makes the flakiest pastry, the lightest cakes and the crispest cookies. . . . Vegetables are doubly delicious when topped with Blue Bonnet's goodness. . . . It's the favorite spread on sandwiches and toast. Do try nutritious Blue Bonnet yourself and see!

WE ALL ENVY the seemingly tireless energy of the smaller fry . . . yet all too often, even the sturdiest youngsters are dangerously exhausted at day's end. Wise mothers now protect their children by giving them one of the new Wampole VITA-POPS every day. Wild-cherry flavored Vita-Pops look and taste like candy . . . yet they contain 8 precious vitamins—including vitamins A, C, D and B12, the precious vitamins so essential for sound growth and good health. Make sure your children get their vitamin requirements by giving them just one Vita-Pops a day! It's great health insurance at $2.50, or the economy sized bottle at only $5.95.

DULL, DARK DAYS OUTSIDE, maybe, but at the table I hope your family is enjoying the sunshine-freshness of AYLMER FANCY PEAS—ASSORTED SIZES. Back last summer, these peas were grown on carefully selected Canadian farms. When they reached perfection Aylmer rushed them, fresh-harvested, to nearby canneries—sealed and cooked them, often within the hour. That's why they're so extra special—so young, tender and deliciously sweet. Do stock up on these famous bright, white tins . . . labelled Aylmer Fancy Peas—Assorted Sizes. I know that you'll agree they're the most succulent, the sweetest, tenderest peas you ever tasted!

Court rules GM failed to warn owners

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan Supreme Court held Wednesday that General Motors failed to warn owners of 1953 Buicks fitted with power brakes that the equipment was defective and "might fail without notice."

A modern automobile so equipped "is as dangerous as a loaded gun," wrote Justice George Edwards in the court's unanimous opinion.

The court ruled in the case of Robert Comstock, a garage employee in Detroit, who was struck and injured by a Buick January 18, 1954. His right leg subsequently was amputated and he sued for $250,000 damages.

Reversing a circuit court decision, the Supreme Court remanded the case for a jury determination on the issue of possible negligence by GM.

British stars by dozens brightening Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The British are coming! Coming, heck—they're here!

The United States has always been a happy hunting ground for British performers, but never has there been such a wholesale invasion as this year. Laurence Olivier and Alec Guinness have brightened what has been a fairly dismal television season.

Among the other imported for American movies, TV and stage plays: Dirk Bogarde, Laurence Harvey, Richard Burton, Margaret Leighton, John Gielgud, Robert Morley, Trevor Howard, John Mills, Hayley Mills, not to mention the more permanent visitors: David Niven, Deborah Kerr, Jean Simmons, James Mason, etc.

How come? I asked one of the latest and loveliest of the invaders, Ann Todd. She is here to do a "Playhouse 90" tonight.

"Perhaps it is because we know our craft," she explained. "Any young performer who shows some promise in England goes through a rigorous training in the classics. That background is invaluable.

"There are some personalities who are flashes in the plan and can have a brief success without dramatic training. But only those who have it remain stars. And they keep working at the business of acting."

Hollywood stars have trouble understanding why performers like Olivier, Harvey and Miss Todd will devote a half-year playing at the Old Vic at something like $90 a week.

"You work hard for ridiculous pay, but it's worth it. The artistic rewards are enormous. You get to do the things you wouldn't ordinarily do in the commercial theatre.

"I know this doesn't sound right, but I'm really not interested in making a lot of money. I think a lot of the English stars feel the same way. We live comfortably, and we enjoy our comfort. But I don't believe we're so determined to amass riches as actors in Hollywood."

Miss Todd sees some hope in the American acting field, especially with the rise of schools like the Actor's Studio.

Engine in the rear? Why, of course!

American and European automobile manufacturers have now adopted the sound principle of the rear-mounted engine. Something once considered unorthodox is now recognized as plain engineering common sense.

You see, Volkswagen's rear engine gives direct drive to the wheels, saving weight and power. It is the most efficient and economical design. And the rear engine gives your rear wheels better traction. In mud, sand, ice, snow, where other cars skid, you go.

What is more, the Volkswagen engine is air-cooled, a decided advantage when you think about it. No water to boil over in summer, or freeze in winter. No antifreeze needed. No radiator problems.

The engine is ingeniously cast of aluminum and magnesium alloys and is very light and powerful; undoubtedly the toughest 198 lbs. going.

It is beautifully machined for minimum friction; you will probably never need oil between changes. And so efficient that top and cruising speeds are the same. Your Volkswagen will run at 70 m.p.h. all day without strain. You get an honest 39 miles to the gallon (regular gas—regular driving).
