Ivan Temple re-elected head of BCAHA

KAMLOOPS (C)—Ivan Temple of Victoria was re-elected president of the British Columbia Amateur Hockey Association for his second term as BCAHA completed its annual three-day meeting here.

Re-elected as secretary-treasurer was Jim Anderson of Trail. Charlie McLean, Trail, was named first vice-president, succeeding Bill McCullock, Penticton, who resigned. C. M. (Bud) Fraser, Kamloops, was elected second vice-president.

The association approved a slight revision of districts, combining Kamloops, Merritt and Revelstoke with the Okanagan under a new name—Okanagan-Mainline. Points north of 100-Mile House will be included in a new northern district.

FOUNTAIN FUND

LOWER BASILDON, England (AP)—Wealthy Gilbert Beal built a fountain on his estate in memory of his parents, and tourists have been tossing coins in it ever since. In the last three years he has retrieved $518 and turned it over to a local church.

Two Australians held for ransom by Viet Nam guerrilla forces

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Two Australian aid officials kidnapped by Communist guerrillas were free today after payment of ransom—the equivalent of $70 in cash and a typewriter.

Wilfred Arthur, a dairy expert, and Lawrence Crozier, attached to the Australian embassy, said they were subjected to endless hours of a rather mild brainwashing.

"They would say the United States did this or that bad thing and then ask us what do you think of that," said Crozier.

Otherwise the Communists treated them well and gave them beer and cigarettes.

Their Vietnamese interpreter was badly treated and threatened with death. He was released with the Australians Sunday when they insisted he be part of the ransom deal.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 ♦	1 ♠
1 NT	Pass	3 NT	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Eight of ♠

In today's hand, declarer placed his adversaries in a position where they had to do his work for him.

East chose to overcall North's opening diamond bid with one spade. South had a normal free bid of one no trump and North offered an orthodox raise to game.

West opened the eight of spades. This was permitted to ride to declarer's king, and he promptly led over to the king of diamonds. East won the trick and dislodged declarer's last spade stopper by returning the queen. South saw no reason to hold up, since the bidding and play made it clear that West could have no more spades and one of the small spades might be used to better advantage later in the play. Declarer led a diamond to dummy's jack and then played the six back to the ten in his hand, observing that East followed suit with the last diamond held by the defenders.

If East were given the lead at this point he could do no more than cash three spade tricks, after which he would be compelled to lead either a club or a heart. Declarer cautiously refrained from cashing the fourth diamond, since he wished to guard against being pressed for discards himself. The five of spades put East in as dummy let go the jack of hearts. He was able to cash two more spade tricks, on which dummy discarded a club and a diamond while declarer let go the nine of hearts. Now any return by East would prove fatal to the defence.

Instead of trying to guess the location of the queen of clubs for his ninth trick or trusting to anything so improbable as winning the heart finesse, declarer had enlisted the services of the opposition to develop the ninth trick.
