In court again

GLASGOW (AP) — Harry McIlwraith, 14-year-old Scots boy who stole a flight across the Atlantic was brought into court Friday for another theft—sneaking £15 ($42) from his mother's purse.

Magistrate James Langmuir ordered him held for a probation report.

Glasgow juvenile court was told Harry, who has twice run away from home, stole the money from his mother.

Bowlers disappearing

LONDON (AP) — Men's Wear, organ of the well-dressed man, says that supplies of hard bowlers are becoming so difficult to obtain that hatters fear before long they will disappear from the scene. The reason is that young men are not coming forward to learn the secret of making them.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of ♦

A defensive slip in today's hand permitted declarer to bring in what appeared to be a real long shot.

It was difficult to avoid reaching a game contract for North could hardly refrain from raising his partner's opening one spade bid. The South hand had an original valuation of 18 points but after spades had been supported the holding was enhanced by three points — one for the fifth spade and two for the sixth. The rebid of four spades was, therefore, mandatory.

Unfortunately, however, North had the "wrong" hand. Many a dummy containing no more than seven points might render the contract a laydown.

West opened the king of diamonds and when dummy was spread it seemed to declarer there was no very sound play for the hand. Apparently he must lose two clubs, a diamond and a heart.

There were two possible holdings on which the hand could be made legitimately: (a) king and queen of hearts both in the East hand and the ace of clubs right; (b) the ace - queen of clubs doubleton in the East hand.

South decided to try the latter play and drew trumps in three rounds winding up in dummy. A low club was led next and, when East put on the nine, declarer's hope apparently went glimmering. Declarer went up with the king and lost to West's ace. West then cashed the queen of diamonds and continued with a third round. This gave declarer a chance.

If East's original holding had been the queen-nine of clubs declarer was now home. After ruffing the third round of diamonds, he played the seven of clubs and ducked in the North hand. East was compelled to win with the queen and the heart shift came too late. Declarer won with the ace and led the five of clubs, finessing the eight in dummy. The losing heart was then discarded on dummy's jack of clubs.
