Be Suspicious

BE suspicious of that of which nobody is proud. Be suspicious of the mere low-price argument offered in favor of an article with no reputation, no backer, no guarantor.

Better buy the thing you know and can trust, than an article unbranded and unvouched for.

The branded shoe, made by a maker with a reputation, is a safer shoe to buy than the one made in an unknown factory by an unknown maker.

The underwear made by a firm whose name is as familiar to you as your own, is worth more to you than underwear nameless or labelled by a maker of whom you have never heard.

Tea sealed in a packet bearing the name of a reputable firm is to be preferred to tea of which the packer is not sufficiently proud to advertise its quality.

That in which much money has been invested to make or keep it good is worth more than that on which nothing or but little has been spent.

Peace of mind is worth something, just as quality is. Buy peace of mind.

When you buy anything worth while buying, buy that of which you know—from advertisements, or from other dependable acquaintance. Buy the article with the "money back" guarantee—with the pledge of a known name behind it.

Put your faith in the advertisements appearing in good newspapers. Beware of the article that cannot stand the spot-light of publicity. The commodity an advertiser backs with his own money is something worth your buying.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any good advertising agency or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lumsden Building. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.

MEMBER BORDEN VS. PREMIER BORDEN

What the Distinguished Gentleman Said in Parliament on Feb. 12, 1910

It has been suggested that instead of the organization of a Canadian Naval force, there should be a system of annual contributions from this country to the mother country; and I am free to admit that, from the strategical point of view, I would be inclined to agree with the view of the Admiralty that this would be the best way for the self-governing dominions of the Empire to make their contributions.

But, Sir, from a constitutional and political standpoint, I am opposed to it, for many reasons. In the first place, I do not believe that it would endure. In the second place it would be a source of friction. It would become a bone of partisan contention. It would be subject to criticism as to the character and the amount of the contributions in both parliaments. It would not be permanent or continuous. It would conduce, if anything could conduce, to severing the present connection between Canada and the Empire.

Permanent co-operation in defence, in my opinion, can only be accomplished by the use of our own material, the employment of our own people, the development and utilization of our own skill and resourcefulness, and above all by the pressing upon the people a sense of responsibility for their share in international affair.

Don'ts by Mr. Will Crooks.

Mr. Will Crooks, M. P., the genial Cockney philosopher of Woolwich, imparted a few useful life rules to a crowd at Whitfield's Tabernacle, London. They were:

Don't argue when you are tired; you can't do it.

Don't take the workshop home with you.

Don't talk trouble before the children.

Don't "swank."

Don't think you can't be "done"; you can.

Don't think you are worse than other people, and don't think you are better; you're not.

Don't think you have a constant job; the man in the cemetery has got that.

Don't talk of being master in your own house. You might be while you are there, but you have got to go out.

Don't get angry; no one cares if you do.

Miss Holtby left by yesterday's train to attend the bachelors' ball to be given by the young men of Hazelton tonight. She will be the guest of Mrs. C. H. Sawle.

BRITAIN BUILDING LARGE AIR FLEET

War Minister Believes It Will Prove to Be Greatest in the World.

London, March 24.—The British minister of war, Lieutenant Colonel Seely, announces that Great Britain will shortly have one of the greatest, if not the greatest, aerial fleets in the world. Although both France and Germany far outdistanced Britain during recent years in the construction of aeroplanes, Britain has been able to profit by their experience and now proposes to build machines speedier and more stable than any yet in operation for naval or military purposes. Colonel Seely hopes that Britain will possess in a short time 148 aeroplanes capable of attaining a speed of ninety miles an hour and of repelling the attacks of other air craft. These machines will be used for army purposes, but it is also intended to provide the navy with hydroplanes.

HE SOLD HIS WIFE TO ANOTHER MAN

And This Occurred in England with Permission of the Court.

New York, March 24.—A London cable to the Tribune says:

"The barter and sale of a woman for $27,500 was arranged in the courts here yesterday by the authority of a judge. The case was that of a divorce suit brought by Marcellus Raymond Moraud against his wife, Helena Woodley Moraud, both actors. J. A. Morrison, inheritor of the Morrison millions, was named as co-respondent. The suit was undefended, and counsel stated that it had been agreed that Morrison should pay Moraud $27,500 damages.

Mr. Justice Bargrave Deane, addressing the jury, said:

"The parties have agreed as to damages. The co-respondent is prepared to pay the amount, and the petitioner is satisfied to receive the sum. If there were something behind the arrangement I should tell you not to listen to it, but in this case, as far as I can see, there is nothing objectionable. Captain Morrison practically bought this woman for £5,000.

CANADA ASKS THAT UNITED STATES ACT

Impatient at Delay Regarding Regulations for Border Fisheries.

Washington, March 24.—Canada is becoming impatient at the delay of Congress in enacting into law the regulations for the government inland fisheries in the border water framed by the joint commission created by the treaty.

John D. Hazen, the Canadian minister of marine and fisheries, accompanied to the White House by Ambassador Bryce, discussed the attitude of the administration toward the question with the purpose of ascertaining the prospects of early legislation.

Men! Grip Life Afresh!

No need for you to be despondent—foolish for a man whom overwork or excesses have dethroned from the pillar of full manhood to relax into further decline—to lose heart. I have in R. METZGER'S BODY BATTERY those potentialities which remake manhood. I can, with its aid, put you in full possession of every faculty which was yours in your best moments. New youth comes to the man who says "I will" and gives this wonderful body energizer a trial. Varicocele, losses and similar drains on the forces of manhood yield readily to its restorative process. No acids to burn—Electric batteries 400 times more efficient and as easy as Nature, do the work.
