By virtue of their triumph in the 1961 European Championships, Great Britain earned the right to compete in the World Championship match for the Bermuda bowl, a contest which will be disputed in New York later this month. One of the colorful members of the British team is Nico Gardner, a veteran campaigner against whom I played in the first Bermuda bowl contest held at Castle Harbour, Bermuda, in 1950.

Today we present a hand where Mr. Gardner picked up a substantial swing for his country against the Austrian team in a qualifying round of an earlier European title event.

In the room where the Austrian pair held the North-South cards, a contract of six spades was reached which was doubled by Boris Schapiro of England; in the West seat. The bad trump break led to a two trick set and a profit of 500 points for the British team.

Gardner and his partner, Albert Rose, arrived at a superior contract of six no trump with the North-South hands. Rose opened with a demand bid of two spades and Gardner, sitting South, responded positively with three clubs. After North rebid his spades, South went on to three no trump. When Rose invited a slam by raising to five no trump, Gardner accepted the invitation with alacrity.

West opened the seven of spades and had Gardner chosen to play the eight from dummy the problem would have been dissolved. However, the seven appeared to be the top of nothing, so declarer called for the dummy's jack. When East discarded a diamond, it became apparent to South that only three spade tricks were available so, in order to fulfill the contract, he would have to bring in the club suit.

Gardner first cashed the king and queen of diamonds, and then the ace of clubs. The eight of clubs was led and the jack successfully finessed but, when South cashed the king, West showed out, shedding a small heart. This apparently reduced declarer's trick total to 11 for, tho he could establish a long club by conceding a trick to East's queen, he had no reëntry to his hand.

Presently Gardner saw a way out of his difficulties if he applied the pressure to West. He played the ace of diamonds and West was obliged to make a discard. If he threw a spade, South would be able to establish the fulfilling trick in that suit by taking another finesse, cashing the ace, and then giving West his king of spades. However, when West discarded a heart it proved to be equally fatal to the defense. Gardner finessed the queen of spades, cashed the two top hearts and exited with the eight of spades. West was in with the ten and was obliged to surrender the last two tricks to dummy's ace, nine of spades.

Studebaker, UAW come to terms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Studebaker - Packard Corporation and the United Auto Workers came to terms early today on a new contract aimed at putting 6,200 striking employees back on the job next Monday.

UAW President Walter Reuther said the agreement to end a six-week walkout at the firm's plant in South Bend, Ind., will be put before the workers for a ratification vote during the weekend.

Hospital group urged

VICTORIA (CP) — An independent commission should be set up to administer hospital operation in British Columbia, Rae Eddie (NDP-CCF — New Westminster) told the legislature Tuesday night.

"It would take the politics out of hospitals and one of its duties would be to plan in accordance with the need, location and number of hospitals, whether chronic or acute.

Alex Matthew (SC-Vancouver Centre) urged the government to consider means of encouraging construction of more chronic care hospitals.

SOCCER GAME SET

VANCOUVER (CP) — Eintracht Frankfurt of Germany and Sheffield United of the English First Division will meet in an exhibition soccer game here early in June.
