9. In Memoriam

In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather Bert Vander Wouden who passed away on April 17, 1962.
One year has passed since that sad day
When one we loved was called away,
God took him home, it was his will
But in our hearts he liveth still.
Sadly missed by his wife, Edna, and Douglas, Vera, Bill and children. (75)

GOREN ON BRIDGE
BY CHARLES H. GOREN
[c 1963: By The Chicago Tribune]

North-South vulnerable. South deals.

NORTH
♠ A 10 6 4 3
♡ 6
◇ Q J 5 2
♣ A 6 3

WEST
♠ Q 7 5
♡ None
◇ 9 6 4 3
♣ K Q J 9 4 2

EAST
♠ K J 9 8 2
♡ K 8 7 4 3
◇ 10 8 7
♣ None

SOUTH
♠ None
♡ A Q J 10 9 5 2
◇ A K
♣ 10 8 7 5

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♡	3 ♣	Double	Pass
4 ♡	Pass	Pass	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of ♣

West's opening lead in today's hand apparently deprived declarer of access to the dummy's assets. His isolation was not long lived, however, for he presently devised a method for securing the help of the opposition.

South opened the bidding with one heart, and West used his favorable vulnerability status as protective cover for a pre-emptive jump overcall of three clubs. North, holding eleven high card points, felt constrained to take some action. I, lacking a fit with partner, he chose to double.

Altho South held four clubs, he feared that, with his highly distributional holding, the profit on defense might not prove to be adequate. He therefore jumped directly to game in hearts which was doubled by East.

West opened the king of clubs and East ruffed away the dummy's ace. A small diamond was returned and South was in. He cashed the ace of hearts on which West discarded a diamond. Declarer found himself confronted with the loss of yet another heart trick and apparently three clubs as well for, with the ace of clubs gone, there was no way to reach the North hand to obtain discards.

The only immediate consolation for South was the realization that, when East got in with the king of hearts, he would be unable to put his partner in to cash his good clubs. But, if East could not make a play for West, perhaps he could be induced to lend some assistance to the declarer.

South cashed his top diamonds and then played the queen of hearts. East won the trick with the king and then exited with the eight of hearts. This round of trumps was taken and now the declarer deliberately threw East back in again by leading the deuce of hearts. Whether the latter shifted to a diamond or a spade, South would be in the dummy to dispose of his losing clubs on North's high cards.
