Debre resigns

PARIS (Reuters)—Prime Minister Michel Debre today handed the official resignation of his government to President Charles de Gaulle at a meeting of the Council of Ministers at the Elysee Palace.

Supplier jailed for one month

A one-month jail sentence was handed out to a city man in magistrate's court Saturday on a charge of supplying an Indian with an intoxicant off a reserve.

George Gerenceser pleaded guilty to the charge before Magistrate E. T. Applewhaite.

RCMP said the charge was laid following an incident about 1 a.m. Saturday when Gerenceser supplied a young Indian girl with liquor.

Police said it was Gerenceser's second conviction for the same offence within a month and added that he still hadn't paid the fine from the first charge.

Opening lead: Ten of ♣

The play known as "dummy reversal" provides a source of endless fascination to many bridge performers because of the almost magical way in which it can make seemingly sure losers disappear. It is perhaps one of the greatest single sources for avoiding unnecessary finesses, as may be observed from today's hand. And yet, many players, afflicted no doubt with a touch of laziness, are unable to master its technique tho it involves little more than transferring one's self from the declarer's seat over to the opposite side of the table in playing out the hand.

The small slam in spades was a sound undertaking, and West elected to open the ten of clubs. It appeared on the surface that the success of the contract would hinge on finding East with the king of hearts, but declarer was one of those people who hated to take a losing finesse. He cast about for some other line that would offer better than a 50-50 chance of success.

Presently he saw that by playing to establish the dummy he could eventually obtain a heart discard on his fourth club. He therefore cashed the ace and king of diamonds and trumped a third round with the queen of spades. Then he led the seven of spades and overtook with the eight in dummy. East took his ace and returned a trump which was permitted to ride around to the ten. When all hands followed, declarer was in the home stretch.

He trumped dummy's remaining diamond with the king of spades, led a club to the ace, and drew West's last spade with dummy's jack. The high clubs were cashed and a low heart was thrown on the fourth round. The ace of hearts and the six of spades took the final two tricks.
