Festive Soup For Spring Luncheon

"Come on over for a soup and salad luncheon". It's fun to plan a spur-of-the-moment gathering for friends and utilize foods on hand. With a little effort and imagination the menu can be festive.

Lamb left from Easter dinner? And you have just a little? Your guests will be pleasantly surprised when you serve Curried Chicken and Lamb Potage . . . so colorful and tasty. No long hours of preparation involved either, for the base of this gourmet's delight is canned condensed cream of chicken soup.

Let the salad be a fancy one (though so easy). Fill orange cups with a mixture of fresh or frozen fruit and arrange on a bed of feathery greens . . . endive or watercress. That first-from-your garden daffodil or two will turn your luncheon table into a spring fashion plate.

CURRIED CHICKEN AND LAMB POTAGE

½ cup diced cooked lamb
¼ cup chopped apple
¼ cup sliced celery
2 tablespoons chopped onion
½ teaspoon curry
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10¼ fluid ounces) condensed cream of chicken soup
1 soup can water
Toasted coconut

In saucepan, cook lamb, apple, celery, onion, and curry powder in butter until vegetables are just tender. Add soup and water. Heat, stirring now and then. Garnish each serving with coconut. Makes 2 or 3 servings.

SOUP SCOOPS

Lunch can be easy and hearty with canned condensed soup. Combine a can each of condensed cream of asparagus and chicken vegetable soup with 2 soup cans of water for lunch today. With a favorite sandwich, it's a real spring treat.

Soup shakes are good for between-meal snacks. Try this: Shake 1 can condensed cream of mushroom and 1 can condensed tomato soup with ¾ soup can evaporated milk and ¾ soup can water until well blended. Serve in tall glasses to 4 to 6 "just-can't-wait-for-dinner" folks.

Nutritious and delicious for school children's lunch . . . either at home or from a vacuum bottle . . . is the combination of canned condensed cream of chicken and cream of vegetable soups. Make it with 1 soup can evaporated milk and 1 soup can water. Peanut butter and cracker sandwiches and fresh fruit complete lunch.

Friendship House haven for 200 during March

A total of 1,000 meals and 670 beds have been provided the homeless and the needy during the first three months of 1960, the Friendship House Maintenance committee was told at a recent meeting.

The meeting was told that two men have been handling the work, bedding down as many as 16 men a night and feeding up to 30 persons a day. During March 261 beds were used and 364 meals provided.

With R. W. McBride as chairman, Kenneth Warren, secretary and Dr. R. W. Large as treasurer, the group decided that in order to co-operate with The Salvation Army in providing the maximum of service and assistance to the people from the villages and canneries, a steward should be obtained for the summer months.
