Bill Jones named coach of Kimberley Dynamiters

NELSON (CP)—Bill Jones, well-known Kootenay hockey star, was named coach of the Kimberley Dynamiters for the 1962-63 Western International Hockey League season.

He succeeds Red Sutherland, who took over the Dynamiter reins when Kimberley returned to the WIHL last season after seven years' absence.

Jones, a 39-year-old veteran, was born in Calgary and played most of his hockey with Canmore, Alta. His last year with the club was in 1945, when the team advanced to the Western intermediate finals before being defeated by Laura, Sask.

In 1946 he came to Kimberley to play for Dynamiters until their withdrawal from the league in 1956. He was a member of the Dynamiter squad which won the British Columbia hockey title in 1946 and lost in the western finals to Calgary.

VICTORIA (CP) — Ivan Temple, president of the B.C. Amateur Hockey Association, said here Wednesday the National Skating Union of Japan has invited an intermediate Canadian team to tour Japan next fall. Japanese officials have suggested a team from the most westerly section of Canada make the trip.

REGINA (CP) — Saskatchewan Roughriders and Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Football Conference completed a new trade recently. Riders get Canadian halfback Roy Cameron, while Eskimos take Canadian halfback Don Vassos, who played one year with B.C. Lions before coming to Saskatchewan last year.

Opening lead: Four of ♥ West failed to capitalize on declarer's error in timing today, and therefore handed back the slam contract which he had been given the opportunity to defeat.

The bidding was somewhat labored but the final contract was sound enough. South's opening bid of one diamond with 23 high card points ran the distinct risk of being passed out, but fortunately he found North with ample values for a one no trump response. South now came out in his true colors with a game forcing jump shift to three spades, which elicited a diamond preference from his partner. South's cue bid of five clubs was a slam try, and North coöperated by showing the ace of hearts. A six diamond bid was rather obvious at this point, but the partnership decided to get their full money's worth and took an additional round of bidding to reach the slam.

The opening heart lead was won in the closed hand as East's jack of hearts forced the king. Declarer saw that his prospects more or less hinged on a successful finesse in either spades or diamonds. He therefore cashed the ace of diamonds at trick two to test trumps, and then he led the ten of hearts to the dummy's ace in order to take a diamond finesse by playing a small diamond and putting in the jack from his hand.

West was in with the queen of trumps and, had he returned a diamond at this point, South would have wound up a trick short of his contract. He is in the dummy for the last time and, tho the spade finesse succeeds, East can assure himself an eventual trick in the suit by covering dummy's jack with the king. Had declarer played off the high clubs from his hand before going over to the dummy's ace of hearts earlier, he could have taken a spade discard on the king of clubs and the defense would have been helpless.

West, however, was not on the ball and, instead of making the trump return which blocks up the club suit, he routinely led back a third round of hearts which was surely a hopeless play. South ruffed in his hand and hastily cashed his high clubs before crossing over to dummy's ten of diamonds, so that he could obtain the essential spade discard before taking the finesse in that suit.
