AVIATORS ARE NOT AFRAID

No Objection to War Vessels Fring at them They Say.

RELATIVE VALUE OF PLANES AND SHIPS

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The United States army aviators have become so enthusiastic over the proposed experiment of bombing naval vessels under approximate wartime conditions that scores of them have suggested that the fleet be allowed to fire back at the planes with anti-aircraft guns.

While admirals and generals have been advancing and disputing claims that the airplane is far superior to the battleship as a war weapon, army pilots have flooded the office of the air service director with pleas that the matter be settled under honest-to-goodness war conditions.

They have been all wrought up over the subject since that not distant day when Josephus Daniels, then Secretary of the U.S. Navy offered to stand bareheaded on the deck of a battleship and let Brigadier-General Mitchell, head of the U.S. Air Service in the war, take a crack at him with a bombing airplane.

Tickled Pink

Lieut. G. C. Moseley, victorious pilot in the recent airplane race at Mineola Field for the Pulitzer Trophy, would be "tickled pink" at the opportunity of a real fight with the navy gunners.

"I firmly believe," he wrote his chief, "that a bunch of those 'gobs' would have about as much chance of hitting one of us (especially if the old battleship were in motion) as the proverbial snow ball."

"With a fast plane I would feel perfectly secure to fly around all day over the Atlantic fleet and let them shoot at me with anything they have—anything from a popgun to a 15-inch piece," reads a letter from Capt. H. W. Cook of Fort Crook, Neb.

"Other army fliers, scattered over fields in many parts of the United States, chimed in with similar willingness, each one asking to be allowed to take part in the experiment, should it ever come about.

Practice on Ships

Meanwhile in several of the air service flying fields bombing practice against silhouette warships placed upon the ground is being carried on. Official tests with a view to determining the relative value of aircraft in warfare are being conducted at the Aberdeen Proving Ground in Maryland.

Army fliers claim that they could sink the biggest battleship with one direct hit with a 1,100 pound bomb dropped from an altitude of 9,000 feet. They contend that the explosive would have such force that it would buckle in the plates of the warship, making it impossible to keep afloat.

As to their own safety in air peppered by anti-aircraft ammunition, the army pilots who saw service over the lines in France, assert that results of attacks upon air craft from the land were few, and they point out that all planes brought down were crippled by guns on fixed land mountings, while in the projected encounter with the fleet, the battleships would have to keep moving.

After the "Flu"

Four Children Had Whooping Cough

Whooping Cough, although specially a disease of childhood, is by no means confined to that period, but may occur at any time of life. It is one of the most dangerous diseases of infancy, and yearly causes more deaths than scarlet fever, typhoid or diphtheria, and is more common in female than male children.

Whooping Cough starts with sneezing, watering of the eyes, irritation of the throat, feverishness and cough.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is highly recommended by mothers everywhere for the relief of this trouble as it helps to clear the clogged up air passages of the mucous and phlegm that has collected, and in this way bring on the "whoop" which brings the so-much sought-for relief and heals and soothes the lungs.

Mrs. J. M. Rouse, Imperial, Sask., writes: —"After the 'flu,' last fall, my four children took whooping cough and one of them developed bronchitis. After using two or three bottles of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup they were greatly relieved of their nasty coughs. It is an especially good remedy for children, and is so nice they take it readily, and ask for more."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is 35c. and 60c. a bottle at all dealers. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

The Tragedy of the Uninsured

No man appreciates the value of LIFE INSURANCE so much as the man who is not insurable. The plight of the hordes of men in this unfortunate position must force you to realize the necessity of insurance.

If it is only $1,000 policy to start with you ought to insure that much protection to your wife and kiddies. Now. Tomorrow may be too late.

This can be done in the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Canada.

TERMS PREMIER DRURY IMPRACTICAL IDEALIST

TORONTO, Ont., April 1.—At a meeting of Ward 4 Conservative Association, H. P. Hill, M.P.P. for Ottawa, termed Premier Drury an impractical idealist, and Hon. W. E. Raney as a great advocate of moral uplift who regarded himself as a heaven-born leader, capable of correcting the failings of his colleagues and humanity. Mr. Hill declared that the timber probe, the Dunnville "farce" and the "alleged scrutiny of the grocers' combine" were apt illustrations of the failure of idealistic theories, as compared with practical administration of public affairs.

Tom Magladery, M.P.P. for Temiskaming, charged the Ontario government with reckless expenditure and attacked the administration of the Mothers' Pension Fund, particularly in Northern Ontario.
