NEWSPAPER LIBEL CASE

Dukt of Northumberland and Morning Post Sued by Labor Leader.

DECLARED TO BE A SPY

W. W. Watson's Inflammatory Speeches Quoted in Court as Justification.

W. F. Watson, one of the extreme labor leaders of Great Britain recently sued the Duke of Northumberland and the Morning Post for libel but failed to make it stick on the ground that the words complained of were published in good faith and were in the public interest. The part complained of was as follows:

"Mr. Smillie's other comrade, W. F. Watson, gained so unsavory a reputation that only the extreme Bolshevist circles will now have anything to do with him. He has earned the somewhat unenviable distinction of having as he admitted himself, acted as a spy for the Government in Bolshevist circles, as well as having been imprisoned by the Government for making seditious speeches. After all, why not? If a man will betray his country, he will betray his friends too. On this occasion his society the London Workers' Committee, which is so much indebted to Mr. Smillie, issued a manifesto to its supporters announcing that "our comrade Watson is to be shut up in the hunger cells of the Windsor family. Long live the Soviet and down with a rotten monarchy must be the cry of the worker and the soldier." He as well as McManus is a member of the "Hands Offf Russia Committee," whose president is Lenin, one of the vice-presidents being Trotsky. The London Workers' Committee over which he presides, or did preside, is the London counterpart of the Clyde Workers' Committee, of which more anon. Both these societies are in the closest touch with Sinn Fein, and on December, 1918, Mr. Watson boasted that "he had formed the nucleus of 200 Soviets, that he had corrupted many Irish soldiers, and that the London Sinn Feiners could supply him with several hundred men trained in the use of arms." It is noteworthy that with a few days of this statement Mr. Smillie declared, on December 6, 1918, that if the electors returned 300 Labor men to Parliament he hoped they would invite the Sinn Feiners over to help them. They could say then, "Your fight is our fight, come over and help us." So much for two of Mr. Smillie's comrades."

Denies Being Spy.

Watson denied that he was a spy for the Government although he had been paid three pounds a week for fourteen weeks to give information in regards to the "Hands off Russia" movement which he was advocating. He was in addition to this paid five pounds a week by another branch of the service in return for confidential reports.

During the war Watson worked at munitions making in order to avoid going to the front. He admitted that he believed in the Government of the country by councils of workers and sought to bring it about by fomenting strikes. He had been convicted of attempting to cause disaffection among the civilian population and had been fined. He also wrote a pamphlet in which were the words:

Slit Gizzards.

"The latest dirty insult to be heaped upon the head of the too patient ass, the worker, is the "combing out" proposal. Men of military age in munition factories, and other Government works, are now regarded as mere lice, to be scraped off or combed out. And still not a finger of interference is raised anywhere against the filthy insult to our manhood. Are we vermin in reality that we continue to tolerate the bloody insolence and arrogance of the class (the only class) that stands to profit by the war? If we had half the grit and manliness of the old trade unionists and Chartists there would have been some slit gizzards in Park Lane before this, as part payment for the physical mental, and moral outrages we have borne at the hands of the capitalist robbers in the past two years."

In Finsbury Park he said:

"I say this, that if anyone has lost this war it is the British, American, and French working people that have lost the war, and I will tell you why. Germany has revolted, thrown over the House of Hohenzollern, and perhaps the time will come when we shall throw over the House of Windsor Soap."

After being convicted for a speech at the Albert Hall he appealed to the Sessions and in his appeal were the following words:

"I think this would be an opportune moment to acquaint the Court with other methods that are used by the authorities to undermine our movement. There is the vile system of espionage whereby members of the movement are paid a weekly salary as informers to the C.I.D., special branch. There are numerous of these reptiles about, and they have their ramifications in almost every organization, and weekly reports of the activities and plans of those organizations are regularly sent to Scotland Yard. . . . I stand before you as a man who has been convicted of an offence against the State, and yet I myself have been approached and offered a good screw to become an informer, and it is possibly due to the fact that I refused to become a traitor to the movement that the Scotland Yard chiefs are so very bitter towards me.

Screw Churchill's Neck.

Extract from a Trafalgar Square speech were quoted in court reading as follows:

"Just as sure as the sun will rise tomorrow morning . . . so will you be confronted with another gigantic war in the near future. Why, echo answers. Why? . . . We, we never fight. Of course, we don't. Now do we? I am asking you as intelligent working people. Do we really fight? Don't you think that if we fought we would not trouble about passing resolutions—we would get hold of Winston Churchill; we would not trouble about putting the chain on him. We would just get hold of him and screw his damn neck. We don't do it, do we? In the old days, when they fought they didn't worry about a murderer like Winston Churchill, did they? They just got hold of him by the scruff of his bloody neck. . . . Winston Churchill is a murderer. . . . What do you do? Nothing! You will go along to meet tomorrow morning and you will say: "I move a resolution that we will ask the employing class to get us a farthing an hour higher wages." Just you pick up your paper and read that the Italian revolutionaries have got 1,500 factories. We here in this damn crowd, what have we? Nothing! You come here and cheer and shout, but what the hell do we do? Nothing; nothing at all. You permit all this unemployment, prostitution, and destitution to go on, and you are just as bad as Winston Churchill. I am spoiling for a fight. I want to show the international capitalist class that we of the working class want to fight."

The case lasted three days and on the third day the plaintiff, in addressing the jury, admitted that he had used coarse language which might have been modified, but he was full of resentment for the wrongs that had been inflicted upon his class. He denied that he was primarily responsible for impeding the successful prosecution of the war.

Judge Sums Up.

His Lordship, in summing up, said that the jury had heard the final address of the plaintiff, and he imagined they must be satisfied that they had before them a man of quite remarkable ability endowed with the gift of speech and of eloquence, and one could not help regretting, when he talked about his own class that he had not got on as others in his class had succeeded doing. Instead of that he had tried to turn society upside down and to bring about a state of things such as existed in Russia. He might have been holding an honorable and remunerative position but instead of taking the line he should he had taken the one which they had heard described. It was a great pity that he had so misused the abilities which God had given him. This was an action for libel and the defendant did not deny that the words complained of were libellous, but they said that they were justified. There could be no doubt that the matter was one of public interest, for the question whether the country should remain under its present form of government or have substituted for it the form of anarchy which prevailed in Russia had an interest for all sections of the community.

FIFTEEN BOILS ON NECK AT ONE TIME

Anyone who has suffered from boils can sympathize with poor old Job.

There was no Burdock Blood Bitters in those days, so Job had to suffer in silence. Nowadays no one need endure the misery of boils.

Boils are simply evidences of the bad blood within coming to the surface and just when you get rid of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your misery.

All the poulticing and lancing you may do will not stop more coming.

What you have to do is take

and the blood will be cleansed of all its impurities, and then every boil will disappear.

Mr. Roy McSwain, High Bank, P. E. I., writes:—"I was troubled with boils for some time, and had as many as fifteen on my neck at once. After taking one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters they commenced to get better, and after I had taken two bottles I was relieved of them and felt much better. I think B. B. B. is a grand blood medicine, and can recommend it highly."

For the past 45 years B. B. B. has been manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
