ASKING GOVERNMENT AID TO DEVELOPMENT OF MINING DISTRICT

To urge the construction of a road into a placer property in the Jamieson Creek area of the Omineca, P. O. Baugert, and H. M. Beach, of Ottawa, are registered at the Empress Hotel, says the Victoria Times.

They have what Mr. Baugert describes as a valuable mining area to develop 200 miles from the Grand Trunk Pacific section of the Canadian National Railway system. They are asking for a road, not only to serve the mine—with the intention of making a substantial contribution to the cost, but to open up a considerable area to settlement. The mine, if it were opened, would absorb a considerable quantity of foodstuffs, as a large crew would be required for operating it. Mr. Beach says that a road would meet one of the chief difficulties of the country, as the foodstuffs produced have to be used in Central British Columbia owing to the freight rates preventing economic shipment out of the section.

Both men, who are experienced operators, have a high opinion of the future of the Omineca as a mining area, and are willing to spend a considerable sum in development. Mr. Baugert says the property is exceptionally rich, and would be a substantial producer if the problem of transportation could be overcome satisfactorily.

As soon as their business is transacted at the Parliament Buildings, they will proceed to the United States en route home.

Sport Chat

The Cambridgeshire Stakes, an important Autumn handicap, which, with the Cesarewitch run two weeks ago, makes one of the most popular sporting "doubles" of the English Turf, will be run tomorrow afternoon, the second day of the Houghton meeting at Newmarket. Although the hopes of the ever-optimistic player of "doubles" vanished when A. K. McComber's foreign trained Rose Prince won the Cesarewitch at Newmarket two weeks ago, the mile and a furlong dash tomorrow afternoon has aroused unusual interest.

The entry list for the Cambrigeshire, which closed on Aug. 7, contained the names of practically every three-year-old of note, as well as the crack three-year-old French colt Epinard, to whom went the post of honor at the top of the table of weights with an impost of 128 pounds. Lord Derby's Tranquil, winner of the Newmarket Classic for fillies and the St. Leger, carries a ten pound penalty in addition to her allowance of 121, thus making her top weight, regardless of sex and age, with 131 pounds. Other first division three-year-olds to appear in the acceptances were Mrs. Whitburn's Drake, Lord Derby's Moabite and Pharos, Lord Woolavington's Town Guard, H. H. Aga Khan's Cos, Teresina and Paola, and J. B. Joel's My Lord. Sir Ernest Paget's Re-Echo, who provided an upset to racing form by winning the Cambridgeshire last Autumn at 25 to 1 against, carries a five pound penalty to his allowance of 121 pounds, Soubriquet, Craigangower and Condover, four-year-olds, are all in at 121 pounds, just one pound less than N. Baring's six year old Roman Bachelor.

The Cambridgeshire Stakes, a handicap, of 25 sovereigns each, with 1,000 sovereigns added, run over the last mile and a furlong of the Across the Flat Course, is a sprinter's race and usually brings out the fastest horses in training. It was first run in 1829, and coming two weeks after the Cesarewitch Stakes, also instituted in 1839, has long been popular with the Turf followers as a "double" event. On only three occasions in the long history of the two races have Cesarewitch winners repeated in the Cambridgeshire. Roseberry in 1876 carried off both races, as did Foxhall in 1881 and Plaisanterie in 1885. The appearance of last year's winner in the list of the acceptances, draws attention to the fact that Hackler's Pride who won in 1903 and 1904, and Christmas Daisy, winner in 1909 and 1910, are the only horses to win the "Cam" on two successive years. The question that has been causing no little discussion is: "Can Re-Echo live up to his name and join the select list of repeaters in the Cambridgeshire."
