Hoopstars to visit Kitkatla

A Prince Rupert Senior All-Star team will travel to Kitkatla Saturday to play Kitkatla representatives, Basketball League president Allan Kelsey announced this morning.

Due to the visit there will be no basketball at the Civic Centre Saturday.

Prince Rupert High School, who are now definately in the Senior League will play Fraser & Payne Thursday. Other games scheduled that night will see High School tackle Fashion Footwear in a Women's League fixture while Old Empress and New Royal Hotel meet in an intermediate game.

A league basketball schedule will be released shortly, Mr. Kelsey said.

BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

How did Mrs. Keen have the nerve to come in freely at the four level, vulnerable, with only a king, a queen and a jack in her hand? The answer is that she merely used a little imagination concerning her partner's holding.

Mr. Dale's double showed a good supply of high cards. Very probably his hand contained a strong heart holding, with at least four cards in that suit. However, since the enemy appeared to have most of the spades, the North hand must have some high card strength in one of the minor suits and possibly in both.

Mrs. Keen decided to try diamonds first and then the clubs, if necessary. As you see, the need to bid the clubs did not arise as Mr. Dale promptly bid game in diamonds.

Mrs. Keen

Mr. Champion thought of going to five spades, at which contract he would have been set only one trick. But he was pretty sure he would take a minus score at that contract and there appeared to be an excellent chance of defeating five diamonds.

If the opening lead had been the king of spades, Mrs. Keen's job would have been an easy one. But Mr. Champion had a devilish plan in mind, involving the opening of his singleton club.

After making that lead, he planned to step in with his ace of diamonds at the first lead of trumps and underlead the ace, king, queen of spades. If he could reach his partner's hand with the jack of spades in this manner, a club return would give him a ruff for the setting trick.

This was a tough defense to handle but Mrs. Keen came through in fine style. She won the first club with dummy's ace. There was no way to reach her hand quickly and therefore she could not take the winning heart finesse and get rid of her spade.

However, she found a line of play that was just as effective. She cashed the ace of hearts, led the queen of hearts and threw her lone spade on it.

This was merely trading tricks as she had a spade to lose anyway, but it cut the defenders' communication in the spade suit. Mr. Champion won with the king of hearts but now had no possible way to reach his partner's hand. Thus Mrs. Keen lost only a heart and the ace of trumps.

Tiger-Cats ordered sold

HAMILTON (CP)—An independent accounting firm has decided $170,000 should be the sale price of Hamilton Tiger-Cats Football Club, it was disclosed Tuesday.

The community-owned club, only one in the Big Four, is under league orders to be sold to private enterprise.

The accountants were called in to establish a price after a 15-man group, including some present Ticats executives, offered to buy the club from the city.

Goalie gets entire blame

NEW YORK (AP)—Coach Alf Pike of New York Rangers says National Hockey League managers, coaches and crowds should lay off the circuit's goaltenders, "all of whom are playing under terrific tension."

"It's no cinch playing 70 games in the net with that puck coming at you 100 miles an hour night after night.

"Last Sunday we scored eight goals on Jacques Plante, who is considered one of the best in the league. Everybody got on him. They said he played lousy. But nobody said his club (Montreal Canadiens) played lousy."

MOOSE FREED—Forest ranger George Marek (upper photo) breaks a channel for a cow moose trapped in the icy waters of the Sturgeon River near Geraldton, Ont., when she broke through thin ice. Logs below the ice prevented the moose from freezing herself but her splashing attracted two Ontario department of lands and forests personnel working nearby. Marek and reforestation supervisor D. A. Skeates, who took these photos, propped her up with two logs and then used other logs to break a channel to shore. The moose, apparently realizing that these men were friends, paddled after them to the shore and climbed out (lower left). Then, after a brief glance back at her rescuers, she galloped off into the bush. —CP photo.

KAMLOOPS HOCKEY FAITHFUL GET INTERNATIONAL FLAVOR

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP)—British Columbia Amateur Hockey Association representative Bud Fraser said Tuesday negotiations are under way to have two more Olympic hockey teams play at Kamloops this season. Three teas are scheduled.

Tentative plans call for the Canadian and West German teams, as well as the Japanese team, to play games here on their way to the Winter Olympics at Squaw Valley, Calif.

The Japanese club, currently touring British Columbia, will play Kamloops-Merritt of the Pacific Coast Amateur Hockey League January 13.

Arrangements are underway for an appearance here February 9 of Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen in an exhibition game against Kamloops Chiefs of the Okanagan Senior Hockey League. They will play at Vernon February 8.

The third game will be March 2 between West Germany and Kamloops-Merritt.

Serge Samartino of Trail will travel with the Russian Selects as referee during their Canadian tour. The home town will supply the second official.

Cool, crisp weather plus good snow

ROSSLAND, B.C. (CP) — Cool crisp weather and hard packed snow are in store for prospective members of Canada's male and female alpine teams as they resume trials Wednesday on the fast and trick slopes of Red Mountain Ski Club.

Under manager Andy Tommy of Ottawa, the team started training here Dec. 1 but left soon after for Kimberley due to lack of snow. They started on preliminary trials last week.
