Be Sensible about the FLU

With every epidemic of influenza comes an epidemic of advice. But if you have the flu—or you even suspect its presence—there's just one thing to do. Call a doctor immediately.

There are, however, some simple, sensible precautions that everyone should take at this time. Try to keep in good physical condition. Guard against colds or sore throat by avoiding contact with all coughers and sneezers. The germs of disease will often fasten upon the man or woman whose vitality has been lowered by a severe cold.

If you should catch a cold, Aspirin will help you to fight it. Keep a supply of these tablets in the house and take them according to directions at the first sign of any cold. Crush three Aspirin tablets in about half a glass of water and gargle as directed, if there is any soreness of the throat.

Be sure to use the genuine Aspirin tablets; they are of proven efficacy.

Above all, don't delay calling your doctor if you have reason to suspect that you have caught the flu.

CHURCHMAN IS BURIED

Impressive Funeral Rites for Bishop Edward O'Dea at Seattle Yesterday

SEATTLE, Dec. 30:—Thousands of Seattle people paid their final tributes to the memory of the late Bishop Edward J. O'Dea, head of this diocese of the Roman Catholic Church, when the funeral took place yesterday from St. James Cathedral. Bishop O'Dea had passed away earlier in the week.

The spacious Cathedral was crowded to the doors with mourners and thousands, unable to gain admittance, stood on the streets outside.

The impressive funeral rites were led by Bishop Joseph McGrath of Baker, Ore., the funeral sermon was preached by Archbishop Edward D. Howard of Portland who highly eulogized deceased.

Bishop Joseph McGrath of Baker, Ore., who led the funeral service for the late Bishop Edward J. O'Dea at Seattle yesterday, is a brother of Father P. J. McGrath O.M.I., formerly parish priest at Prince Rupert and now stationed at McBride.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

Editor, Daily News:—

Considerable discussion is taking place at present concerning possible legislation in respect to unemployment insurance—a matter of vital concern to all workers and on which, I hope, you will permit me to express my opinion through the medium of your paper.

It appears there are two points of view on this matter amongst the workers; some are favoring contributory and others non-contributory forms of insurance.

Looking up data compiled by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics the latest available figures show 1929.

Net value of manufacturing products, $1,997,350,365; wages and salaries, $813,049,842; subtracting one from the other we get a value added by labor during the manufacturing process, $1,184,300,523.

This is the surplus value and a question arises, who gets it?

Now the direct relief is and the benefits from the coming insurance act both together would amount to only a small fraction of this huge sum. So where is there any justification for the implied sting of a dole respecting non-contributory insurance?

And what about the C. P. R. who were granted by the Dominion government $1,500,000 with no interest attached and presumably for the purpose of financing employment of the C. P. R.'s workers when a few days later the same C. P. R. has loaned to the same Dominion government $2,000,000 with the interest of 4%?

The underlying principle of unemployment insurance in England and Germany is that only those who have contributed a specified amount into the insurance fund in the course of so many weeks would be eligible to whatever benefits there may be. Well, what about the unemployed who have nothing to contribute? And why should the employed be expected to contribute towards the fund after they already have produced surplus value that some one else got away with?

According to the estimates arrived at by technocracy 45.5% of the present working force are doomed to permanent unemployment due to technical progress in the process of production. Now since the workers are not responsible for this state of unemployment which is due to the anarchy of capitalist production and exchange and the displacement of labor by automatic machinery for the purpose of augmenting of profits and financed by bankers it naturally follows that bankers and other beneficiaries stand the consequence of their own doings.

In view of the wholesale cutting and slashing of wages and salaries and in view of the surplus value already mentioned, it is difficult to understand that a section of the workers would allow their minds to become so influenced by capitalist propaganda as to voluntarily agree to the addition of expropriation of the product of their labor.

Yours for abolishment of capitalism.

M. ANDERSON.
