HAZARDOUS TRIP OF A RUSSIAN DOCTOR

Fate Favored Hardy Adventurer on Massett Inlet; Located on Island

MASSETT, Sept. 26. — Some weeks ago a novel craft left Massett Inlet in charge of a Russian doctor, who appeared to understand little of the modern construction of sea-going vessels or concerning the waters of Hecate Straits.

With a couple of logs, some boards and outriggers the daring navigator rowed away on a five mile tide, heading for Naden Harbor, over a course which has been the scene of numerous wrecks of small boats during recent years.

His outfit consisted of a pair of blankets, a sack of flour, with two pounds of sugar. Through good fortune the sailor reached his destination after camping for days along the beach. On the journey he found a row boat which had been cast upon the shore which he repaired, and is using in his peregrinations.

It was fortunate that the weather has been favorable and the forest safe from fire of large dimensions. On two occasions he started fires which died out before doing a great deal of damage.

During his stay at Naden Harbor he was provided with two plugs of tobacco. Ofter viewing conditions in that neighborhood he again set sail and was reported by the natives to be occupying an island outside of Massett Inlet.

TELKWA

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Owens were week end visitors to Hazelton.

Mrs. Jones left for the south on Thursday to undergo treatment at Soap Lake, Washington. Mrs. Jones has the good wishes of the community who hope she may be greatly benefited.

The Telkwa Lumber Co. has completed arrangements to open up the mill at Tatlow. Manager Svenson has a capable crew of men together, and cutting will commence at once.

Wm. Boyle of the Government Telegraphs has gone south. Until relief is sent Mr. McIntosh is operating here. Little Miss Muriel Boyle is at present residing with Mrs. Jack Ticehurst.

J. P. Wheeler left on Saturday for the coast where he will attend a convention of the S.S.B. He will also visit his parents while away.

A Delco plant is being installed by Broughton & McNeil which will give that firm the benefit of electric light.

A joint meeting of the St. Stephen's Guild and the Union Church W.A. was held on Tuesday last in the Union Church. It was decided to hold a harvest supper and service on Thursday, Oct. 4.

Miss Glady's McDonahl is spending the week end with her parents, having come up from Hazelton on Saturday morning.

E. W. Davies returned on Thursday after a couple of weeks at the coast. He is glad to be back and realizes that there are a lot of places far away worse than the Bulkley Valley.

Heavy rains fell on Saturday afternoon and during the night, Although rain is not needed for the crops now, it was very welcome as a dust dampener.

Telkwaites in plenty visited the Smithers Fair and were well pleased. A great many prizes for various entries found their way back to Telkwa. Telkwa was also lucky in winning the third yearly football game of the cup series.

Everyone is looking forward to the dance to be held at the Round Lake Community Hall on Friday next.

The Northern Polytechnic expects to open classes here early in October.

DOUBLE HEADER GAME AT ANYOX

Final Baseball of Season Ends in Mine Team Winning the Cup

ANYOX, Sept. 26.— The Anyox sport season was wound up over the week end, when the baseball went into a double-header by the Elks upsetting the dope and winning the game scheduled to take place. This tied the series, making the Post Season Series for the Anyox cup two games all. In the deciding game both teams did their best to win, but the Mine played slightly better baseball and won the cup for the season of 1923. Both games were splendidly contested, there were no arguments, and the losers freely admitted that they beaten by a team that played better baseball than they did. The first game was the better exhibition of the two and gave the fans some thrills, the features of it being a sensational one-hand catch by Campbell, Elks centre fielder, of Halverson's difficult fly, after a hard run, and the winning of the game, after the score had been tied by the Mine, through Downs stealing home in the seventh after two men had been retired and two strikes had been counted on the batter. It was a great finish to a good ball game. In the second game, the Mine played headier ball, and the bad baserunning of the Elks was responsible for their loss, as they did better with the willow than their opponents. The same batteries worked both games. C. Ferguson and Mealey handled the ball for the Mine and Fitzpatrick and Cody hurled and received for the Elks. Ferguson had a total of sixteen strike-outs for both games, and Fitzpatrick just half that number. Eight errors were chalked up against the "Brother Bills" and five against the "Muckers." In hits the Elks got seventeen while the Mine connected for fourteen safeties. Elks finding the ball for base tickets in the first game were Downs three singles, Cody two, Thorley, Autterson and Fitzpatrick one each. For the Mine, J. Ferguson had a two-bagger and two singles, Mealey a two-bagger and Allan, Pynne and Deane each a single. In the second game, the Mine batters were Stewart with two two-base hits, Anderson a two-base safety and a single, while J. Ferguson, Halverson and Ployart got singles. The Elks connecting in this game were Cody, who got two two-baggers, Brentzen one of a like kind, Downs, two singles, Greenwell two of the same denomination, and Campbell and Thorley one each. The arbitrator of balls and strikes was W. Olsen, while A. Sinclair looked after the bases. The line-up:

Elks: Downs, Campbell, Cody, Greenwell, Draudson, Fitzpatrick, Brentzen, Thorley and Autterson.

Mine—Mealey, J. Ferguson, C. Ferguson, Stewart, Anderson, Halverson, Allah, Pynne and Deane.

In the second game, Ployart took Pynne's place.

A worth-while Reputation

The head of one of this country's great manufacturing institutions says:

"The Man who builds and the man who buys are both beneficiaries of reputation. To the one it is a continuous spur and incentive--to the other, the strongest of all guarantees that what he buys is worthy."

Patronize the manufacturer or merchant who has a reputation for honesty and fair dealing. Such motives must actuate the consistent advertiser. The man who invests real money in building a reputation for himself and his merchandise cannot afford to risk any of it by taking unfair advantage of his customers. He must retain the good-will of the buying public. Without this, his business cannot succeed

Every time he advertises he puts his reputation in your hands. His products or the wares he has for sale must make good. His service must be as advertised.

That is why it pays to read advertisements, to deal with advertisers and to buy advertised goods.
