Hands Across Sea In Time Of Disaster.

Nothing but the deepest sympathy with Japan in her sore distress is heard here. Industrially and ethnologically we may object to certain phases of Japanese contact on this coast, but at a time like this there is but one thought, what can we do to help? Doubtless within a few days we shall know the full extent of the awful catastrophe and steps will then be taken to show our sympathy in some appreciable manner.

Japan is our nearest neighbor across the Pacific. She is the nation that has made the greatest progress politically, socially, educationally, and in every other way. We have a number of Japanese citizens living with us and they are in most respects estimable people. We as a port are looking for much closer trade relations with Japan. There have been treaty ties binding us and now there is the bond of sympathy for a suffering nation caused by no fault of hers but by the freakish forces of nature. In the time of her calamity we extend the hand of friendship and when we can learn the need of the hour, doubtless more will be done than sending mere words.

Negotiations For Road Construction.

Negotiations in regard to the road construction out of this port seem to be progressing well and there does not seem much reason now for holding back the commencement of the work. Of course there must be documents signed and various details worked out. In the meantime Prince Rupert people are restive under the delays.

United States Wins Tennis Trophy.

The tennis trophy has once more been successfully defended by the United States after a long elimination series culminating in the defeat of Australia by the representative players of the republic. This series of games rouses a good deal of interest in sport circles and shows that in this line of sport the States stands well to the fore. The feature we can all appreciate about it is that that sport is purely amateur.

Getting Ready For Big Exhibition.

Owing to the inclement weather the labor celebrations were not what might be called a complete success. Considering the conditions, they were excellent, but the handicap of rain and wind was too great to make for what might be properly called a success. To make up for this local people will unite their efforts on the exhibition and the sport phases of it as well as the various exhibit and amusement features are now being pushed forward and it is expected the event will eclipse former similar efforts. A great deal of interest has been aroused at outside points. Many visitors will be here and it is up to Prince Rupert to do her best to entertain them and make it worth while for them to return another year.

What Is Use Of League Of Nations?

If the jurisdiction of the League of Nations is to be questioned what is the use of the organization? According to press despatches Italy and Greece have been disregarding the court of nations and Italy refuses to accept its jurisdiction. The appointment of a court has no value unless that court has some power of enforcement of its decisions.

PRIEST WINNER OF COLLART CUP

Westview Garden Adjudged Best in City—J. L. Lee's is Close Second

Thomas Priest Graham Ave., has been awarded the cup presented by Ald. Theo. Collart to the Fair Board for the best vegetable and flower garden in the city. The judges, Ald. M. M. Stephens, R. M. Winslow and E. Van Gastel, made the rounds of the competing gardens yesterday and selected the winner. The garden of James L. Lee, Eleventh Avenue, ran a close second and was but 1-2 a point behind, winning the special commendation of the judges.

The following report by the judges has been submitted to the Fair Office by Mr. Winslow, who was formerly a government horticulturalist:

"On behalf of the judges of the garden competition for the Collart special I report as follows:

The judges considered that flowers and vegetables should rank equally in value and between the close competitors used score cards as follows:—

Flowers—Variety, 10; quality, 10; quantity, 10; cleanness and neatness, 7½; arrangement and display, 12½.

"Vegetables—Variety, 10; quality, 10; quantity, 12½; cleanness and neatness, 12½; arrangement and display 5.

"On this basis some excellent vegetables gardens where flowers were few did not score highly and a very good collection of flowers was in a similar position.

"The judges understood that the purpose of the competition was to stimulate all round gardens with vegetables for utility and flowers for the appearance of the home and city.

"The entry of Thomas Priest is awarded first place and the entry of James L. Lee second place, only one-half point less. The judges desire to record highly their commendation of the latter entry."

LABOR DAY DANCE ENJOYABLE EVENT

Good Attendance at Elks Hall in Spite of Extreme Weather Conditions

While the bad weather made the outdoor sports unpleasant yesterday it did not to any appreciable extent mar the enjoyment of the dance given under the joint auspices of the Hospital Auxiliary and the Labor Day Committee in the Elks' Hall last night. There were a large number of young people present, the music of Balagno's orchestra was excellent and all the arrangements were good. Dancing was kept up until one o'clock with intervals for the serving of ice cream and other refreshments between.

Those in charge were Mrs. Parsons, convenor, Mrs. James Lee, Mrs. Sandison, Mrs. Hemmings, Mrs. Jarvis McLeod.

Mrs. McLeod and J. H. Meagher took the money at the door and W. M. Brown was master of ceremonies.

During the evening a cake presented by the LaCasse Bakery was raffled and won by Mrs. Ben Self. Several of the books not having been returned the other raffles could not be held but were postponed until a later date.

LUTHERAN PREACHER WILL BE APPOINTED

V. A. Giere Returned to St. Paul Last Night After Looking Into Possibilities

V. A. Giere, Lutheran Church student pastor, sailed last night by the steamer Prince Rupert for the south en route to St. Paul via Seattle and Portland. Mr. Giere has been in the city for several months investigating the situation with a view to re-establishing a Lutheran congregation here. It is believed his report will result in the appointment of a permanent pastor for the city. He will also report to the Lutheran Young People's Society regarding the fishermen's home project.

The local Lutheran congregation had its second service on Sunday in the Metropole Hall and there was a good turnout. Mr. Giere preached and Mrs. L. O. Larsen and Mr. Giere sang solos. W. Vaughan Davies was accompanist.
