JACK LEGGATT COMES BACK ON VISIT TO OLD RUPERT FRIENDS

Sees Much Improvement in City Since he Left Over Ten Years Ago

Jack Leggatt, who in the early days was wharfinger for the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway here, and Mrs. Leggatt are revisiting the city and are being welcomed by many old friends. They arrived in town on last night's train after a trip East and will proceed south tomorrow night on the Prince Charles.

Mr. Leggatt, who left Prince Rupert over ten years ago and has not been here since, notices a considerable improvement in the general appearance of the place, particularly as regards the streets. He is also confident that the construction of an elevator here will have a decided effect for the good on the future of the city.

Mr. Leggatt now is located at Ioco where he is identified with the Imperial Oil Co. A brother of Mrs. Leggatt, Jack Callum, is employed at the Prince Rupert Spruce Mill.
