BOOST SMITH FOR PRESIDENT

FIRST EFFORT OF WELL KNOWN DEMOCRAT IS TO RE-ELECT HIM GOVERNOR

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 27.—All indications are that the war between the friends and enemies of Governor "Al" Smith of New York in the Democratic party will soon be on in earnest, by way of preparation for the national convention of 1928.

Nobody here doubts that Governor Smith is going to sweep New York again this fall. He seems sure to be chosen governor again by a heavy vote. The Republicans are worried lest he carry the senatorship with him and defeat Senator Wadsworth. But regardless of the senatorship, Governor Smith will get the governorship again and that fact will add to the enthusiasm of his admirers who want to see him nominated for president by his party in 1928.

PAVING WAY

For months, the Smith lieutenants have been working in many states to pave the way for his nomination in 1928. Other Democratic aspirants have been more or less inactive.

Lately, the opponents of Governor Smith have been showing signs of waking up. In Alabama recently, the anti-Smith forces made a fight and won out in the nominations for the Senate and for state offices. Governor Smith may be said to have been an issue there.

In California, in the primaries just held, John E. Elliottt, the McAdoo candidate for the Senate, was nominated over Isadore Dockweiler, who was considered pro-Smith. Had Dockweiler won, McAdoo would have been considered out of the running for 1928 and Smith would have been greatly helped in California and the West.

STRUGGLE DEVELOPING

In some other parts of the country, the anti-Smith elements in the Democratic party, heretofore more or less inactive, are showing signs of stirring themselves. It looks as if the fight between the Smith and anti-Smith forces would develop in earnest this winter. In the present pre-election campaign for control of Congress, which will end with the election in November, the Democrats will hold down the Smith and anti-Smith issue as much as possible.

Not only is the Smith and anti-Smith struggle developing, but there is sure to be a powerful movement under way in the Democratic party before many months to sidetrack both Smith and McAdoo for the presidency and compromise on some other man, such as Former Senator Pomerene of Ohio or Senator Reed of Missouri.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

Fred Shaw, George Casey, T. Small and W. Crossley were received as delegates at the meeting of the Trades & Labor Council last night. They represent the recently organized Fish Packers' Union.

The royal commission appointed to inquire into the condition of the G. T. P. and C. N. R. railways arrived in the city from Vancouver this morning and proceeded East by special train. The members of the commission are Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the railway commission; A. H. Smith, president of the New York Central Railway; F. H. Phippen, K.C., H. L. Ingersoll of the New York Central, and Messrs. Wishart and Richards. The party was met here by W. P. Hinton who is accompanying it to Edmonton.

It is stated that there would be wonderful mining developments in this district if a smelter and refinery were established at Prince Rupert.

CANCELLATION OF RESERVE

JUDGE'S DAUGHTER TO MARRY BANKER

Wedding of Miss Marguerite Young and A. H. Marmichael Takes Place October 7

One of the season's most interesting weddings will take place in Prince Rupert on October 7 when Miss Marguerite Glaholm Young, daughter of Judge and Mrs. F. McB. Young, will be married to Alexander Harper Carmichael, son of the late John and Mrs. Carmichael of Shawlands, Scotland. The bride, who has lived here since early girlhood and who is very popular, is being made the raison d'etre for many delightful social affairs. The groom, who also enjoys a wide measure of popularity, is accountant in the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

SKIDEGATE

James Gillespie and J. Lauler of Vancouver have been busy cruising timber around Skidegate Inlet for the past three weeks for the Southern Alberta Timber Co. It is reported that the company will go into the logging business on a large scale soon.

Cohoes were running well last week. One of the trollers got 45 for which South Bay cannery paid 50c each.

Four new school teachers are in charge of schools in and near Skidegate Inlet. M. Newman of New Hazelton is at Queen Charlotte City, G. F. Walet of Victoria at the Dufferin Pattullo School at Skidegate, Miss G. Haan of Sandspit at Lawn Hill and Mr. Brandon at Sandspit.

Major Thompson and E. Robertson, M.E., have been looking over the placer gold claims on William Duncan's ranch north of here. The results of their tests did not justify putting in machinery. Mr. Duncan has washed gold from the sands there in small quantities.

Settlers around Tlell state that the pink salmon, which are very numerous in that neighborhood this year, are dying without spawning. The matter is puzzling the settlers who hope it will be investigated.

PRINCE GEORGE

Twenty head of P. Burns' cattle were rounded up this week by L. D. Bottineau, city poundkeeper, when they broke loose from a corrall in South Fort George. The poundage amounted to $40 of which Bottineau got $20.

Alexander Young, a government liquor board operator, has been charged in police court here with giving liquor to a minor. It is claimed that Young used a young boy to purchase some liquor and that subsequently he gave some of the liquor to the boy.

Work has been started on the cut-off in the road from Prince George to Vanderhoof. In addition to shortening the road, the work will cut off the difficult Sweet Creek hill.

Construction of big buildings for the McArthur sawmill will start here this winter. A general superintendent will be sent here in a few days to take charge of the work.
