TO BUILD DAM AT SHAWATLANS

Small Affair of Rough Hewn Logs is For Test Purposes

At the semi-monthly meeting of the city council last evening a letter was read from A. C. R. Yuille, engineer engaged by the council to report on the possibilities of extending the plant at Shawatlans. Mr. Yuille recommended that a dam be built on the north fork of Shawatlans creek to enable definite data to be obtained regarding the quantity of water available from time to time so that when extensions for the city might be necessary the engineers would have this knowledge at hand. He proposed making a dam of rough-hewn logs and advised that this could be done at cost of $250.

Alderman Perry felt that this was a waste of money. "There's not enough water there to give a bird a drink, at times," he stated and was not in favor of throwing money away on small unnecessary works.

Mayor Newton felt that now was the time to build the dam. Much talk was heard about the water power available but no authentic information was forthcoming.

Alderman Brown felt in view of the varying reports it would be well worth $250 to get the engineering data. There was little surplus power at present and on one occasion the Cold Storage had been asked to lay off. If the Shawatlans project was not worth extending it would be better to abandon it forthwith, but he felt it right that Mr. Yuille's recommendation should be acted on. Alderman Joe Greer referred the council to the comparative cost of power from the Dry Dock and from Shawatlans. Mr. Yuille said that two thousand extra units would be available from Shawatlans. It was only reasonable that they should find out the value of the power to be obtained from this creek.

Alderman Stephens was assured that once the dam was in, the present staff could carry on the necessary work.

The council then recommended that the sum of $250 be set aside for the purpose of installing the dam.

PEOPLE WHO NEVER WASH

Strange Madagascar Tribesmen Soak Clothing in Grease and Use Wooden Pillows

CHICAGO, July 12.—Strange Madagascar tribesmen, some of whom never bathe or wash their clothing; who sleep on carved wooden pillows and who live largely on a diet of sour milk have been found by Dr. Ralph Linton, leader of the Captain Marshall Field expedition to Madagascar for the Field Museum.

These Antandroy and Mahafaly tribesmen, Dr. Linton found during a sojourn among them, follow a curious custom of soaking their clothing in grease. He discussed their strange characteristics in a report made public by the Museum.

Dr. Linton who has been living on the island since January, 1926, in the confidence of the tribal chiefs, has obtained a collection of wooden pillows and has made photographs of some of the most sacred ceremonies of the tribes. He believes himself to be the only white man ever to have witnessed the sacred ceremony of cleaning the tombs of kings, which is an annual event by the tribesmen in the mountains of Skalava.

MUCH JEWELLERY

His report spoke of the apparent wealth of the tribes. "Many of the women taking part in the ceremonies were laden with hundreds of dollars' worth of gold jewellery," he wrote.

Head hunting is practiced, the heads of enemies being taken as trophies and suspended from a rack outside the villages.

Dr. Linton expressed amazement at the number and viciousness of crocodiles in the region.

"They are so bad," he wrote, "that the women always get their water with a dipper on a ten-foot pole."

FIGHTER OF DUELS ARRIVES IN STATES

Says If You Fight a Man You Make a Friend of Him

NEW YORK, July 12.—Pal Sandor, a member of the Hungarian Parliament, who has fought 103 duels, most of them in defense of the Jewish faith, has arrived here for a study of affairs and conditions.

His most recent duel occurred less than two years ago when he was 65 years old and lasted sixty seven minutes, considered a record for duels in Hungary since the Napoleonic wars. His opponent was M. Benard, the Hungarian Food Minister.

Mr. Sandor, who has ceased duelling since Hungary "legislated against the practice, defended dueling as 'one of the best ways of making friends."

"I have never cut off a man's head in my life," he said, "but in the effort to cut off heads I have made many friends. When you have fought a man about some crucial issue you feel closer to him than before. He is your friend."

PLANS SEARCH PARENT RACE

Dr. Terrance Expects to Look for Stock From Which Humans Sprang

BOSTON, Mass., July 12.— Dr. Arthur Terrance, explorer and scientist, Fellow of The Royal Society of England, was in Boston recently for a short visit and told something of his plans for his expedition to Africa next fall in search of the parent race of humankind. A secondary object will be a study of possible methods of eliminating sleeping sickness by efforts to exterminate the tsetse fly.

The expedition, which is expected to start from Boston about September 30, is the sequel to Dr. Terrance's discoveries of strangely formed natives in his six months' exploration of African jungles in 1924 and 1025. The region which he will revisit is in the vicinity of Lake Chard in Northern Nigeria.

Dr. Torrance said that the normal members of the tribe which he visited as well as those showing abnormal physical formations were tall in stature but very primitive and of an intelligence inferior to many other African tribes. He advanced the theory that this may indicate that the start of the human race was in the African jungles. He will take an X-ray machine to aid in his study of the physical peculiarities.

Dr. Torrance, who is a graduate of New York University, plans to assemble a party of five scientists and three big game hunters. It is expected that the Smithsonian Institution and the National Geographic Society will be represented in the expedition.

The Three Important Points

When buying an engine, there are three things to look for: Reliability, Economy of Operation, and Durability. Large corporations, who are keen buyers, are users of Fairbanks-Morse Diesel Engines, and are getting very satisfactory service. Such companies as the Laurentide Pulp & Paper Co., the Canadian International Paper Co., the Newfoundland Power & Paper Co., use them for tug boat service; the largest fishery companies on the Atlantic Coast use them exclusively, and there are numerous owners on the Pacific Coast. When considering engines, ask us for a list of installations in your vicinity.

Fairbanks-Morse Diesel Engines are made in the following sizes:—

20 h.p.—2 cyl.	180 h.p.—6 cyl.
40 h.p.—4 cyl.	240 h.p.—4 cyl.
60 h.p.—3 cyl.	360 h.p.—6 cyl.
80 h.p.—4 cyl.	480 h.p.—4 cyl.
120 h.p.—4 cyl.	600 h.p.—5 cyl.
120 h.p.—6 cyl.	720 h.p.—6 cyl.
