AN ALTERNATIVE

A negro named Sam had worked for his master for five years. His friend, Ben, said to him one day:

"Now, Sam, you have worked up there and make your employer rich. You ought to ask for more money. You just tell him: "Look here, guv'nor, you pay me more money or else—"

Sam tried his friend's advice next morning. He began: "Say, boss, you hab to gib me mo' money fo' dis job."

"Well, Sam, I'll see about it," was the reply.

"See about nothin'. You pay mo' or else——"

"Pay more or else, else what?" The employer's eyes flashed and his tone was sharp.

Sam's eyes blinked as he detected his master's anger, and in a sofe voice he replied: "Else I wuck for de same money."

PROPOSAL TO LIGHT CITIES FROM MILL

Duncan and Ladysmith Talking of Buying Power from Chemainus

CHEMAINUS, Nov. 25.—There is a scheme afoot for the new mill now in course of erection here to supply electric current to the two cities of Ladysmith and Duncan, one seven miles distant and the other twelve. Under the suggested plan the cities would each build its own transmission line and buy the power in bulk metred at Chemainus. They would then have the option of selling power and light to farmers or others along the route of the power line.

The current would be generated by steam turbines, the fuel being the waste from the sawmill.

The scheme will have to be approved by the councils and ratepayers of each city before being adopted.
