THAT DREADFUL CHILD

The little son of the house was very quiet during he first part of the dinner, and every one forgot that he was there.

As desert was being served the host told a story. When he had finished, and laughter had ceased, his little son explained gleefully:

"Now, father, tell the other one."—Yorkshire Post.

PARISIAN BASKETBALL TEAM COULDN'T SHOOT

EDMONTON, Sept 29.—When the Edmonton Commercial Grads came back from their victories in basketball abroad, they slipped back at once into the local business life. One of the champions took time however, to give some of her views on the trip: "In Strassburg, when they won the European title they came up against the best team of any. The general feeling among the Grads was that the Parisian teams didn't know how to shoot, and while, as Eleanor Mountifield, explained, the girls were all wonderful athletes, they had no organization and had not specialized in anything. "You should have seen the French referee in the game. He couldn't speak English and every time he had fouled one of us he explained by acting what had happened. He went to call a foul on me for pushing and went over and nearly knocked the girl over trying to explain to me."

Pete Nornan, charged with intoxication, failed to put in an appearance at the cvity police court this morning and his bail of $25 was estreated.

Sport Chat

About the only thing that seems to worry Doug Frizzell, as he goes around with his arm in a sling following the accidental explosion of his gun up the line last week, is that the losing of half his thumb may interfere with future baseball and basketball playing. During the past two or three seasons, Doug has been an active athlete and his friends hope with him that his present fears will come to naught.

Whist players are now looking forward to the resumption of activities of the Fraternal Whist League. It is expected that the competitions for the Dybhavn and Newton cups will be just as keen this winter as ever before and that there will be as many teams—men's and women's—in the running as in past seasons. A meeting is called to take place in the Mayor's office on Saturday to reorganize the league and make plans for the season.

Billiard balls will be set rolling at the general meeting of the Prince Rupert Billiard League which is called for this evening. Officers will be elected and general plans made for what promises to be a very active season. The organization of an intermediate league is to be proposed at the meeting in addition to the Senior League. There are a large number of players and fans awaiting the opening of the competition for the Bulger & Cameron Cup emblematic of city billiard team championship.

BASKETBALL GIRLS HAD SUNDAY HIKE

Miss Mills and Party Made Round Trip on Ties from Port Edward to North Pacific and Back

Miss S. A. Mills, principal of Borden Street school, and the members of the Maple Leaf basketball team, had a ten mile hike yesterday from Port Edward to North Pacific Cannery and back.

The party left early in the morning on M. M. Stephens' gas boat "Vera S. Frye" and disembarked at Port Edward. Then they took to the ties for the hike. Returning to Port Edward, they boarded the train and rode home. An interesting feature of the trip was a visit to Inverness cannery where the girls saw the operation of cohoe canning, being conducted through the plant by manager R. G. Johnstone.

Besides Miss Mills, the party consisted of Miss Louie Fisher, Miss Margaret Graham, Miss Myra Harvey, Miss Laura Stephens, Miss Aileen Stephens and Miss Dorothy Macdonald.

Mr Stephens and Elgood went hunting from Port Edward.

MOUNTAIN CLIMBING SEASON IS NOW ON

Two Parties Scaled Mount Morse During the Past Few Days: Ladies at Top Yesterday

The hiking season seems to be on. At the week end a local party went to the top of Mount Morse and yesterday a party consisting of four ladies and three men scrambled to the topmost point.

For the average climber it is an all day jaunt to the top of the mountain. The party yesterday left the Prince Rupert cannery at half past nine and reached the summit at half past one, keeping to the right of the stream all the way up. Each one carried lunch and a kettle was taken along to make coffee, a supply of good water being found right at the summit. After an hour and a half spent boiling the kettle, eating lunch and enjoying the wonderful outlook the return was accomplished in a leisurely manner, the cannery being reached about half past five.

DID HIS BEST

"No, Reginald," averred the girl, "your blossoms made no great hit with me."

"I was merely trying to say it with flowers, as we are constantly advised to do by astute commercial men."

"You sent only daisies."

"Well, daisies mean 'I love you.'"

"That's all right, but Tom sent orchids. Orchids mean 'I went broke for you.'"

THAT WAS THE PLAN

Judge—I'm surprised at your going to law over a pig. Why don't you settle it out of court?"

"We was going to settle it out of court, yer honor, only a cop come and pulled us apart." — Team Work.
