SPORT CHAT

E. C. Cook of Sydney, millionaire backer of Major Goodsell in all of his races up to those in Vancouver with Barry, has cabled Goodsell that he desires to back him for a race against Barry on the Thames in June or July. The only stipulation made is that, if Goodsell wins, he defend the title afterward in Australia. George Matterson, Goodsell's mentor, received the cable in Vancouver and wired Goodsell in California at once. Mr. Matterson said the stipulation of Mr. Cook that Goodsell defend his title, should he regain it from Barry, only in Australia, might put a hitch in the negotiations as Goodsell planned to live in Vancouver.

Outlining the standing of Jack Dempsey as a challenger, Tex Rickard asserts that the former champion will meet Tunney without previous test only in case Heeny and Sharkey "both look terrible" in their elimination battle on January 13. Rickard declared that there was no place in the elimination ranks for George Godfrey, latest "black menace," who boasts a formidable string of knockout victories. "He's one of the worst fighters I ever saw," the promoter declared. "He fought three times in the garden and never showed anything. Besides, Tunney would not meet a negro even if Godfrey knocked out a few more set ups."

ALICE ARM

F. L. Housley, who has taken out twelve million feet of logs from the Kitsault River flats, has finally closed up his camp here. For the past few weeks a small crew has been engaged taking up railway track and gathering together equipment most of which has been shipped to Anyox. The last logs have just been shipped to Powell River on the barge Biscayne.

The coldest weather of a record cold winter in Alice Arm was registered last week when the thermometer dropped to three below zero. There has also been a record snowfall this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ole Evindsen held their annual party in the Alice Arm Hotel on New Year's Eve when the residents of Alice Arm were their guests.

"Alice Arm has passed a successful year and, while no big developments have taken place, steady progress has been made from which everyone will benefit in the years to come," states the Alice Arm Herald.

STEWART

According to word received here from the south the Georgia River Mines Ltd. has available some $225,000 with which to prosecute a vigorous program of development on its holdings in the Portland Canal district.

So far this season, twelve feet three inches of snow has fallen in Stewart. Something of a record is thus constituted.

Thomas King, local blacksmith, has returned to Stewart from a brief trip outside.

In its New Year's message, the Portland Canal News of Stewart asserted its "full confidence that all residents of the Portland Canal district will realize their legitimate hopes during the coming year."

A carnival dance was held in Stewart for the purpose of welcoming in the New Year. The function was largely attended.

Mrs. Charles Larson is on a holiday visit to Prince Rupert.

Mrs. Harry Hicks is on a visit to Ketchikan.

Miss M. Woolsey, who has been visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Marvin, left last week for Prince Rupert.

The regular monthly meeting of the Stewart Board of Trade took place on Tuesday evening of this week when various matters pertaining to the town and district were discussed.

R. Becker returned tothe town last week from a visit to Prince Rupert.

Owney McPadden made a brief business trip to Prince Rupert last week.

Algie Hunter acted as Santa Claus at the Moose Christmas Tree last week, the event being attended by practically all local children.

A snowmobile put in service on the road between Hyder and Stewart this winter by Charles M. Adam, head of the Stewart Motors Co., is operating successfully and creating much interest.

Fire which apparently originated from an overheated stove destroyed the south warehouse and office of the Hyder Dock Co. last Thursday. All the contents of the building were lost including a Ford car belonging to Ben Olen and 160 cases of dynamite which fortunately burned without exploding. Much snow and a strong north wind saved the rest of the dock from destruction.

George Bunn, owner of the Engineer group of four claims on the south fork of the Marmot River, is putting in the winter working on a development tunnel which he started last year and on which he is making good progress.

Directed "Egg" Sweeping

Capt. W. Stafford, D.S.C., R.D., R.N.R., former Commander of the Canadian Navy, during the Great War when activities centered around Halifax where German mines imperilled transportation. Valiant seamen who went to search called these mines "eggs". Since the War Capt. Stafford has been staff captain of the world's fastest liner, the Cunarder Mauretania. He is now master of the S.S. Ausonia, of the same line, sailing between English and Canadian ports.
