Prior to the distribution of presents from the Christmas tree by Santa Claus an excellen musical program was carried out by the young soldiers of the Army.

Following was the program:

Violin solo, Miss Nellie Gurvich.

Sketch: "The Seasons," by the Misses Doris Rose, Violet McCutcheon, Pearl Collier and Caroline Smith.

Recitation by Rose Smith.

Selection by the band, "Holly.'

Recitation by Arthur Smith.

Drill and song, "The Japanese Fan," by ten girls.

Sketch: "A Christmas Surprise on Mother Goose," by Mrs. Pipe, and ten young people.

Piano duet by the Misses Molly and Nellie Lawrence.

Recitation, "Hans and Yawcup," Tom Smith.

Song, "Christmas Lullaby," by four girls.

Recitation by William Rea.

Song "Santa Land" by the primary class.

At the conclusion of the program, Santa Claus appeared in the regular orthodox fashion and amidst much jubilation proceeded hand the gifts from the heavily laden tree to the children. Every child in the hall received a suitable present and, in addition, all the good things that go with it at this season.

Much credit is due to Capt. and Mrs. Rea for the splendid success of the evening.

CHINA WAR AND CANADIAN TRADE

If Hostilities Continue, Lumber and Grain Markets Will be Seriously Affected

PEKIN, Dec. 22.—If China's civil war continues much longer, the Chinese market for Canadian lumber and wheat will be seriously affected, according to present indications. The Shanghai lumber market has been heavily overstocked for some months, but shipments from across the Pacific have continued to arrive, with the result that prices have materially declined. Owing to the warfare between the various military factions it has been unsafe to attempt shipment of lumber into the interior, and consequently there is almost unprecedented congestion in the seaports.

Quotations have also tobogganed in respect to the Canadian wheat. Arrivals of wheat in Shanghai have been interrupted, but mill stocks are large. The tightness of the money market is having its effect. If prices should rise, there will be a good opportunity for Canadian shippers to find an extensive market for wheat in China this winter because of the suspension of daily transportation from Manchuria, which is the most important granary in China.

In the past civil wars have not disturbed the flow of commerce in China very much. In fact, during the past ten years a state of warfare, such as usually exists in China, has been regarded as the normal condition. The present strife is different, however, in that it involves Shanghai, the principal trade centre of the country and the entrepot for approximately one half of China's imports.

Approximately sixty per cent of Canadian and United States export to China consist of raw materials and foodstuffs. Damage to the rice fields from troop movements and the mobilization of farmers at harvest time, it is predicted, will mean a food shortage in China, which must be met by imports of grain from North America.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hanson and family are sailing on the Prince Rupert on Friday mounding to make the round trip to Seattle.

Art Locklon, manager of the United Grain Growers' farm at Elbow, Sask., is visiting the company's sawmill at Hutton.

G. W. Davis, former local representative of the Canadian Explosives and now located at Edmonton, has left that city for an extended visit to the coast.

Stores will be closed Christmas Day and on Friday, Boxing Day.
