Mackenzie King Has Sadly Failed

(Winnipeg Free Press)

Mr. King's western addresses are not drawing warm encomiums from the Conservative press in Eastern Canada—a circumstance which will probably not cause the Prime Minister any loss of sleep. One might think from some of the comments that Mr. King was expected by them to seize the occasion of his western trip to renounce the tariff policy which his government has followed for ten years, declare himself a convinced believer in the views to which Mr. Bennett has given expression several hundred times since he became Conservative leader, and deliver himself of a hymn of hate against the Americans; and that his failure to live up to these expectations puts him outside the pale as a craven incompetent.

Adjutant Kerr Is Back After Visit To the Naas River

Adjutant William Kerr, local commandant of the Salvation Army, returned to the city yesterday after a week's trip to the Naas River on which he was accompanied by Capt. Andrew McKay and Envoy Joseph Offatt of Port Simpson. They had intended going up the Naas River to Canyon City, where Adjutant Kerr was to have officially opened a new Army hall. However, weather was so unfavorable that it was impossible for a boat to come down the river to meet them.

The party spent four days at Kincolith, where meetings were conducted, and then came back to Port Simpson, where Adjutant Kerr spent the week-end conducting meetings. He returned to the city aboard a gasboat last night.

Singing Contest Well Received On Local Radios

Radio fans enjoyed a treat last night when they heard twenty vocal soloists taking part in a national competition broadcast over the National system for the Atwater-Kent Company. There were ten men and ten women singers and most of the numbers were good, some being excellent.

The local reception was very good with practically no interference with the singers. It was picked up from a number of different stations.

Cure For Sea Sickness Found

BERLIN, Nov. 19:—For the first time the therapeutic results of the treatment of seasickness with vasano have been published by Dr. F. Metzler, ship's physician on the liner Hamburg, who has described his experiences with the drug in cases running over a period of two years.

Dr. Metzler found that if vasano was administered early enough it invariably prevented mal-de-mer even in passengers who had suffered from the disease for years. In the milder form of seasickness, he says, tablets of vasano did the trick, whereas in persistent and more aggravated cases vasano suppositories were indicated, the curative effects setting in within half an hour and continuing, if not leading to a radical cure, at least 12 hours.

Vasano administered in conjunction with a soporific Dr. Metzler also found highly efficacious. He considers hypodermic injections the ideal form for administering the drug.

Mrs. Norman Bishop, Salisbury, N.B., writes:—"I was troubled with faint and dizzy spells and when I would lie down I would suffer terribly with smothering spells. I got so bad I had to sleep propped up in bed.
