NEW AEROPLANE THAT CAN STAY IN THE AIR QUITE STILL FOR AN INDEFINITE PERIOD

Paris, Sept. 3.—French aviators said today that it will take ocular evidence to convince them that a device has been discovered in Germany, as asserted in the Tagliche Rundschau, which enables aeroplanists to remain stationary in the air indefinitely.

Lieut. Schott, the American aviator, is the hero of the French aviation world today for his two victories in bomb throwing contests at Marmelon. He won prizes worth $15,000.

Berlin, Sept. 3.—The Tagliche Rundschau says it learns that a German engineer has made a remarkable invention, permitting an aeroplane to remain stationary in the air at a given point for an indefinite period.

The form of aeroplane for which this amazing accomplishment is claimed, differs radically from any heavier-than-air machine hitherto constructed.

The military authorities are said to be enthusiastic over the new invention, as it opens up incalculable possibilities in observation and the dropping of explosives. The Tagliche Rundschau says it would hesitate to circulate the announcement, which seems fantastic on its face were the source of its information not unquestionable.

Memorial War Cry.

A specially gotten up memorial number of the War Cry, beautifully illustrated, containing a graphically written obituary notice of the late General William Booth, together with a chronological table of events in the history of the life and work of the great leader and the Salvation Army generally, has just come out. Captain Tuttle wishes to let it be known that he has a limited number of copies still on hand and any one desiring one of the same can obtain them at the Salvation Army headquarters.

Many of the new dressy blouses are carried out in two shades of chiffon, with metallic trimmings and embroideries.

RECIPROCITY STILL A LIVE ISSUE AHEAD

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 3.—A special dispatch from the Washington bureau of the Minneapolis Tribune says:

"There appears to be no probability whatever that the Canadian reciprocity pact will be repealed at this session, though President Taft is represented as being indisposed to insist upon its retention upon the statute books if congress agrees to its removal.

Democrats Opposed.

The Democratic house, of course, is the main stumbling block to reciprocity, at present, but it is further jeopardized and possibly hopelessly blocked because of the fact that the repeal amendment which originally was attached to the steel bill is now a part of the cotton revision bill, a decidedly unpopular and admittedly insincere measure which is now in conference, but which it appears is likely never to emerge from the conference room and therefore will never reach the president.

Would Be Vetoed Anyway.

"The house cotton bill and that passed by the senate are decidedly different measures and offer small ground for a compromise in conference and unless through some unforeseen chance the senate overrides the president's veto of the wool bill the cotton measure probably will not be heard of again this session. If it should emerge, however, it is practically certain that the entire measure, including reciprocity repeal, will be vetoed by the president as the proposed cotton revision is probably farther separated from the tariff board recommendations than any of the Democratic tariff revision measures."

ORIENTAL RESTAURANTS IN DEFENCE

Montreal, Aug. 31.—Following publication locally by the Rev. Mr. Bourke, of a letter received from the Rev. Dr. Moore, general secretary of the Social and Moral Reform department of the Methodist church in Canada dealing with the danger of white girls being employed by Orientals and endorsed by the attempt of the Saskatchewan government to reduce the number of white girls employed, the Chinese restaurateurs here have issued a reply. They invite Mr. Bourke to visit the cafes, and declare they can convince him that they are conducted on a strictly honorable basis.

The large gold hats topped with gold, colored or taupe plumes are bewitching.

All designs of needlework are of an open character. Floral effects are not massed closely together.

Evening gowns still show swathed draperies of lace and minion, which outline the figure with statesque elegance.

Children's coats in a variety of stunning models are made of heavy, coarsely woven linen. Collar and cuffs are of contrasting color.

On one charming gown Japanese embroidery in lovely tones of mauve, rose, red, powder blue and gold enhanced the beauty of the bodice.

NOTICE

Public notice is hereby given that under the first part of Chapter 79 of the Revised Statutes of Canada, 1906 known as "The Companies Act," letters patent have been issued under the seal of the Secretary of State of Canada, bearing date the 18th day of June, 1912, incorporating Richmond

(a) To acquire by purchase, lease, exchange or otherwise, and to use, hold and improve lands, tenements, hereditaments, immovables, fixtures, machinery and other things to carry on business of a land company and real estate agency with the power of leasing, exchanging, selling and otherwise dealing in real estate and any interest or right therein.

(b) To develop, improve and lay out any such property in building lots, streets, lanes, squares or otherwise, and upon such property make, construct, build and maintain roads, bridges and other internal communications, houses, workshops, factories and other buildings necessary or expedient to the occupation or improvement of any such property.

(c) To make advances by way of loans to purchasers or lessees of any part of the company's real estate for building purposes or other improvements, to aid by way of advances or otherwise in the construction and maintenance of roads, streets, waterworks, sewers, drains, and other works of improvement, calculated to render the company's property more accessible or to enhance its value.

(d) To take and hold mortgages, hypothec, liens and charges and to secure the payment of the purchase price of any property sold by the company or any money due to the company from purchasers or advanced by the company to purchasers for building purposes or other improvements.

(e) To act as an agency or association for and on behalf of others who entrust the company with money, invest and also secure the repayment of the principal or the payment of the interest, or both, of any money entrusted with the company or to secure the company against loss upon any guarantee or obligation or any advance made by the company and to receive and dispose of any deposits, assets or securities which is conveyed, pledged, mortgaged or assigned to or warehoused with the company in connection with such guarantee, obligation, advance or investment, and to guarantee any investment made by the company as agent or otherwise.

(f) To act as agents, or attorneys, for the management of estates, the sale of property, the investment of money, the payment, transmission and collection of moneys, rents, interests, dividends, mortgages, debentures and other securities and the undertaking of investigations, valuations, sales, exchanges, leases, subdivisions and the like.

(g) To construct, build, repair, alter and equip buildings and other structures and to deal in any building requisites.

(h) To construct, acquire and operate works for the production of power or force and deal in such power or force for any use or purpose for which the same may be adapted, subject to Provincial and municipal authorities.

(i) To acquire letters patent of invention, patent rights, processes, concessions, licenses, trade marks, copyrights or any other privileges of like nature connected with anything convenient for the purposes of the company, and to turn the same to account by manufacturing or working the same or granting licenses in respect thereof or otherwise.

(j) To purchase or otherwise acquire, or undertake all or any part of the business, property, assets or liabilities of any person, partnership or company carrying on business with objects similar in whole or in part to those of the company or possessed of property suitable and proper for the purposes of the company.

(k) To apply paid up shares, bonds or debentures in payment either in whole or in part of any property real or personal, rights, claims, privileges, concessions or other advantages which the company may lawfully acquire, and also in payment, part payment or exchange for the shares, bonds, debentures or securities of any other company doing a business similar in whole or in part or incidental to the business of this company.

(l) To purchase, acquire, hold and own shares of the capital stock, bonds or other securities of any other company, corporation or individual carrying on business in any business which the company is empowered to carry on or engage in, and to acquire, hold or otherwise dispose of such shares, bonds or other securities, notwithstanding the provisions of section 44 of the Companies Act.

(m) To enter into any arrangement for sharing of profits, union of interests, co-operation, joint adventures, reciprocal concession or otherwise with any person, partnership or company carrying on or engaged in or about to carry on any business or transaction which this company is authorized to carry on or to amalgamate with such company.

(n) To raise and assist in raising for and to aid by way of bonus, loan, promise, endorsement, or otherwise, securities or otherwise of any other company or corporation, and to guarantee the performance of contracts by any such persons with whom the company may have business relations.

(o) To distribute among the shareholders of the company in kind, any property or assets of the company, and in particular any shares, debentures or securities of any other company or companies which may have been purchased or taken over either in whole or in part of the property, assets or liabilities of this company.

(p) To sell, lease, exchange or otherwise dispose of, in whole or in part, the property, rights or undertakings of the company for such consideration as may be agreed upon, and in particular for shares, debentures or securities of any other company having objects altogether or in part similar to those of the company.

(q) To enter into any arrangement with any governments or authorities, supreme, municipal, local or otherwise, that may seem conducive to the company's objects, and to obtain from any such government or authority any rights, privileges and concessions which it may be desirable to obtain and to carry out, exercise and comply with or sell or dispose of any such arrangements, rights, privileges and concessions.

(r) To remunerate any person, firm or company for services rendered or to be rendered in placing or assisting in placing or about the formation, promotion, organization or incorporation of the company or the conduct of its business with the approval of the shareholders of the company.

(s) To pay all or any costs, charges or expenses preliminary or incidental to or incurred in connection with the promotion, organization, formation, establishment, registration and incorporation of the company with the approval of the shareholders of the company.

(t) To do all such other acts and things as are incidental or conducive to the attainment of the above objects or any part thereof and to carry on any business whether manufacturing or otherwise germane to the purposes and objects set forth, and which may seem to the company capable of being conveniently carried on by the company, or calculated directly or indirectly to enhance the value or render profitable any of its properties or rights.

(u) To do all or any of the matters here in or about the formation, promotion, organization or incorporation of the company or the conduct of its business with the approval of the shareholders of the company.

(v) The powers in each paragraph to be in a wise limited or restricted by reference to or inference from the terms of any other paragraph.

The operations of the company to be carried on throughout the Dominion of Canada and elsewhere by the name of "Prince Rupert Town Properties, Limited" with a capital stock of fifty thousand pounds sterling, divided into 50,000 shares of one pound sterling each, and the chief place of business of the said company to be at the City of Prince Rupert, in the province of British Columbia.

Dated at the office of the Secretary of State of Canada this 18th day of June, 1912.
