STUDY CLUB IN SESSION

Social Planning Subject Of Discussion At Meeting Last Night

Notwithstanding the rain, a goodly number attended the weekly Study Club meeting in the United Church rooms last night. The subject under discussion was Social Planning. The study was based on an outline given by a committee of the Bureau of Research and now in book form.

Rev. C. D. Clarke presided. His remarks included reference to the certainty of a transition period following which key industries would be operated for the need of the citizens with state control of the banking and money systems Ways and means would be found of compensating justly entitled owners of wealth and national debts would be honored to the extent of ability.

Much interest was taken in the remarks of the speakers and there was a general discussion.

A MUSICAL JAWBONE

LONDON, Jan. 23: (CP)—St. Pancras Station recently echoed to music provided by a joker from an instrument made from the jawbone of an ass, on the occasion of C. B. Cochran's "Follow the Sun" company leaving for Manchester.

Princess Light Of Addis Ababa

Haile Selassie's Third Daughter Is Well Educated And Indispensible

ADDIS ABABA, Jan. 23: (CP)—When the third daughter was born to His Majesty Haile Selassie and his Empress Etaje Mennan, she was named Zahae Work—which means the golden sun.

The Princess today is a slender, willowy girl of 18, whose skin is a delicate brown and whose black hair is combed high above the forehead. Her features are regular and dainty. Her simplicity and poise have been enhanced by several years in European schools, where she acquired fluency in several languages.

As she transposes both French and English into Amharic with the greatest facility for her royal mother, she seems almost indispensible to court life. She also takes an active part in the work of the Ethiopian women, having just accepted the presidency of the women's Red Cross. She is often found assisting in the work of making bandages.

Largely through her influence, the women's Red Cross will be made a permanent organization in Addis Ababa.

At Red Cross headquarters the Princess wears the regulation white apron but, when seen in the palace, she wears often a white embroidered European gown, and thrown over her shoulders a modern black velvet cape. Some extra wrap is always necessary, as the palace, like all houses in Addis Ababa, is cold. The Princess does not wear the shamma, the native gown of Ethiopia.

THOUGHTFUL BOY KILLED

LEEDS, Jan. 23: (CP)—After her 12-year old son had been killed in an accident just before Christmas, the mother found under his bed Christmas presents for the family, bought with money earned by delivering newspapers.

DRAMA OF REAL LIFE

"Ah Wilderness!" at the Capitol Theatre is Outstanding Picture

A striking drama of average American life, "Ah Wilderness!", a notable picture in which Wallace Beery and Lionel Barrymore are teamed up with a supporting cast including such stars as Aline MacMahon, Eric Linden and Cecilia Parker, comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here on Thursday and Friday nights of this week.

The story deals with an American family in a small New England town in 1906. Barrymore plays the part of the father. His son, graduating from high school and in the throes of his first love affair, goes through the transports and despair that each boy lives through. There is a parallel in the romance of middle life between Beery, the shiftless reporter, and Alice MacMahon, the maiden aunt, whose love never ripened into marriage because of the inefficiency of her lover and his taste for drink.

Though teaching a moral lesson, "Ah Wilderness!" is not a preachment but teaches while it entertains by placing before the audience actual human life undisguised by any fictional trappings.
