Women's Prayer Observed Here

Well Attended Meeting Held Yesterday Afternoon in Salvation Army Citadel

There was a good attendance of women at the Salvation Army Citadel yesterday afternoon for the prayer meeting in observance of the World's Day of Prayer. Mrs. Ivan Halsey led the meeting with a fitting address on the subject of "Remember Lot's Wife." Women representing various city churches took part in the prayers as follows: First Presbyterian Church, Mrs. J. W. McKinley; First Baptist Church, Mrs. Norman Fraser; St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral, Mrs. C. V. Evitt; First United Church, J. C. Jackson; St. Peter's Anglican Church, Mrs. J. W. Moorehouse. There was a solo by Mrs. Garfield McKinley, accompanied by Mrs. J. C. Gilker. Accompanist for the hymns was Miss Clara Pierce.

Halibut Fleet Getting Ready For Opening of Season—Trollers Also Stirring—Question of Liver Price Still at Issue

With the opening of the 1938 halibut season scheduled for April 1, less than a month hence, preparatory activities are now getting well under way at Prince Rupert. The exceptionally fine weather of the past week or so has been highly auspicious for the carrying out of outside work. Consequently, there is quite a stir now in getting boats and engines in readiness for the season's activities. While the principal activity just now is on the halibut fleet, there is also some work among the trolling vessels going on. As far as the halibutting is concerned, the question of halibut liver price is about the only thing that appears to be still at issue. There has been no answer from the pharmaceutical manufacturing concerns since the recent recommendation that no less than the 1937 price should be accepted.

Herring seining is still going on in full swing at Surf Inlet, Princess Royal Island, south of Prince Rupert, the fishing being for the Tucks Inlet and Port Edward reduction plants. There has been a heavy run with close to 3000 tons being taken within a week. With a moderation in weather, herring are now reported plentiful throughout the district. Elias Skog has erected his live herring pound at Butler's Cove and will be taking in fish as soon as they come close enough in shore. The herring are stored there as fresh bait supply for the halibut fleet during the season.

Mitchell & Currie, contractors, have construction of the gun shed on the local waterfront just west of the ocean dock well under way now.

The Alaska freighter Evelyn Berg, Capt. Allan Fulmer, arrived in port at 10:45 this morning from Ketchikan with fish for transshipment East over the Canadian National Railways.

CONCERT PROGRAM

Exceptional Versality in Interesting Choral and Vocal Presentation

A program of exceptional versality has been arranged for the Sunday evening concert to be presented tomorrow in the Capitol Theatre by Capitolians Orchestra and Choral Singers under the auspices of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club. Doors will open at 8:45 p.m. and the concert will start at 9:15 sharp. Admission will be by programs which can be obtained at the Capitol Theatre, Orme's Drug Store or from members of the Gyro Club. The program will be as follows:

God Save the King.

Orchestral, (a) "Serenade" (Drigo), (b) "How Lovely are Thy Dwellings" (Liddle).

Choral, (a) "Come, O Blessed Lord" (Tchaikovsky), (b) "Bless Thou the Lord, O My Soul" (Ippolitoff-Ivanoff).

Violin Duet and Chorus, Prison Scene, from "Il Trovatore" (Verdi), Miss N. Lawrance and Mr. A. C. Cameron.

Orchestral, Indian Love Lyrics (a) "The Temple Bells," (b) "Less Than the Dust" (Woodforde-Finden).

Choral, "The Goldfinches Wedding" (Humorous Russian Folk Song).

Piano Quartette, "Spanish Dances" (Moszkowski), Mrs. E. J. Smith, Mrs. W. L. Stamford, Mr. C. P. Balagno and Dr. W. A. Riddell.

Intermission.

Choral, (a) "Gypsy Chorus" (Balfe), (b) "Have You Forgotten?" (Lamare).

Orchestral, Selections from "The Firefly" (Friml).

Vocal Duet, "Come to the Fair" (Martin), Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Large.

Choral, (a) "Who is Sylvia?" (Schubert), (b) "Allah's Holiday" (Friml).

Orchestral and Choral, "Finlandia" (Sibelius).

Conductor—Dr. H. N. Brocklesby.

Accompanist—Mrs. E. J. Smith.

Tales Amuse Children At Story Hour

Familiar and nonsense tales entertained the older children at the Story Hour this morning. Mrs. G. P. Tinker developed interest in the serial story and delighted with the "Steadfast Tin Soldier." Mrs. Bernard Lundahl amused in directing an action story, "The King With the Terrible Temper," and pleasingly related "The Ugly Duckling." Margaret Armstrong drew much laughter with the humorous story, "Bertram and His Giraffe, Rudolph."

Next week the program for children between the ages of four and eight will be in charge of Mrs. D. V. Smith, Mrs. P. H. Linzey and Kitty Cameron.

Home Building Plans In Hands Of Committee

At the meeting of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night the special committee on home improvement was asked to continue to function in connection with the proposed home building campaign relating to which City Commissioner Alder is now in the south. The committee will make an effort to secure local facilities for government loans to home builders.

PRECAUTION NOT PERSECUTION

A business man passed the following remark in a city club:

"Yes, my son is growing up at last. He now recognizes the fact that washing behind his ears is a sanitary precaution and not a parental persecution."

VISITED AT GREENVILLE

Kincolith Church Army Members, 43 Strong, Travelled up Naas River Over Ice—Full Program

Kincolith Church Army members, forty-three strong, travelled by gasboat and over the ice of the Naas River last week-end to pay a fraternal visit to Greenville village. Departure from Kincolith was made Thursday morning and the destination reached late that afternoon. The return trip down the river was made on Monday. The Greenville people were lavish in their hospitality and numerous special events featured the visit.

In seven gasboats, the Kincolith people travelled as far as Fishery Bay where they took to the ice which was safe and in good condition.

On arrival at Greenville the visitors were met by the concert band of that village as well as the village council, the secretary of which extended a welcome. John Nelson, honorary mayor, gave an address and Captain Sam Lincoln read from the Gospel and gave a prayer. Following this was a thanksgiving service at St. Andrew's Church with 120 persons in attendance. Later in the Community Hall the Women's Auxiliary served refreshments.

Many Gatherings

On Friday evening there was a dinner by St. Andrew's Church choir. Rev. W. S. Cooper said Grace and there were addresses by Sam Grey, president of the choir; Charles Leeson, superintendent; Johnson Russ, president of the Greenville Athletic Club; Charles Davis, chairman of the church elders; Jeffery Benson, on behalf of the Kincolith choir; Jonah Haldane, on behalf of the Kincolith choir, and Sam Lincoln. The church orchestra played two marches. D. W. Leeson, secretary of the choir, was announcer.

After the dinner there was a service in St. Andrew's Church, Capt. Matthew Gurney conducting the meeting which was attended by 133 persons. Francis Watts read the lesson and Capt. Sam Lincoln read from the Gospel. The march "Holy Name" was played by the Church Army Band and Capt. Matthew Stewart and Mrs. Elizabeth Morrison led in the singing of hymns.

Saturday's proceedings commenced with a service in the morning and in the evening there was another party in the Community Hall. Speeches were given by H. H. McKay, Peter Calder, Cornelius Nelson, Charles Alexander sr., Samuel McKay, Cecil Burton, Jeffery Benson, Sam Lincoln and Matthew Gurney. The Band accompanied the processional chorus at opening and also rendered a march. Rev. W. S. Cooper said the Grace.

Matthew Stewart conducted the Saturday evening service. Herbert Doolan jr. read the lesson and George Stewart, the gospel. J. J. Haldane and Mrs. Francis Watts led the singing of hymns and Mrs. Charles Burton rendered a solo. The Band played "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Sunday morning Holy Communion was celebrated in St. Andrew's Church by Rev. W. S. Cooper. Later a Church Army service was conducted by Charles Morrison with Ralph Clayton reading the lesson and S. P. Burton, the Gospel. Mrs. Charles Burton sang a solo and Sam Stewart and Mrs. Cecil Burton led the hymns. The Band played a march.

Farewell Meeting

The evening service was conducted by Rev. W. S. Cooper and was followed by a farewell meeting by the Kincolith Church Army. Various organizations, young and old, represented by groups, took part in the musical program. Captain Sam Grey led the Sisters' and Helpers' League in their song. The Church Army Band also took part. The individuals participating in the musical program were George Leeson, Albert Moore, William Martin, Joshua McKay, Charles McKay, Mercy Moody, Mr. Moody, Charles Davis, Mrs. Jonah Greg, S. P. Burton, Mrs. Cecil Barton, George Stewart, Cornelius Nelson, William Stevens, R. Clayton, P. Burton, C. Morrison and Cecil Burton. There were speeches by John Nelson, Peter Calder and Cornelius Nelson and the proceedings closed with the singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Arriving home on Monday, the Kincolith travelers were met by the Women's Auxiliary and were the gusts of Herbert Doolan sr. at Jubilee Hall in the evening.
