Visiting Officers At Salvation Army

Special Services Held Yesterday at Local Citadel With Good Attendance

There were large gatherings at special meetings in the local Salvation Army Citadel yesterday when visiting officers were in attendance to assist Captain and Mrs. Ivan Halsey. Adjutant Parkinson of Glen Vowell spoke at both morning and evening services. There was special music by Mrs. A. T. Jones and family.

Miss Bessie Haan Is Given Shower

Affair is Held in Honor of Popular Bride-Elect

Mrs. Ole Stegavig was hostess at a delightful miscellaneous shower at her home in honor of Miss Bessie Haan who is to be married shortly to Jock Redpath.

The early part of the evening was spent in playing bridge. The prize winners were Miss Nellie Killer and Mrs. Peter Fisher.

Following the serving of delicious refreshments Miss Francis Stegavig brought in a beautifully decorated tray loaded with gifts for the bride-elect who responded suitably.

Those present were: Miss Edna Dobbie, Miss Olive Gordon, Mrs. Paul Stegavig, Mrs. Roy Morrison, Miss G. McWhinney, Mrs. Peter Fisher, Miss Elizabeth Killer, Miss Kathleen Giraud, Miss Lillian Moss, Miss Nancy Pallant, Miss Louis Studdy, Miss Millicent Osborne, Miss Clara Stegavig, Mrs. P. Wingham, Mrs. Giske, Miss E. Dannhauer, Miss K. Naylor, Miss B. McCubbin, Miss F. McDonald and Betty Cameron.

Madge Macbeth Is Speaker At High School

Mrs. Madge Macbeth gave an illustrated lecture on Bolivia last Thursday afternoon to the students of Booth Memorial High School. The lecture was similar to the one she gave to the Women's Canadian Club.

The students greatly appreciated the lecture and Peter Allen, president of the Students' Council, moved, on behalf of the students, a vote of thanks to Mrs. Macbeth and also to Dr. Neal Carter who operated the lantern.

Friends Of Street And Not Of Heart

Weakness of Church In Too Many Of Its People Not Being Real Followers

The subject of the morning sermon in the First United Church yesterday was a character sketch of Ananias, the man whose name is known throughout the world as a synonym for falsehood. "Too many of our friends are friends of the street, of a social party and not of the heart," said the pastor, Rev. J. C. Jackson. "It is the heart that counts. The weakness of the church is partly the result of so many of its adherents not being made followers of it in their hearts. Ananias was more than an average citizen. But he failed to live up to the high standard of God. That standard demands everything in a man or a woman. Ananias kept something back and he died. If we would be true followers of God we shall keep nothing back."

In the evening Mr. Jackson spoke on "The Worship of an Extinct Fire." Too many people kept up the form of a religion but there was no force in it. How many could repeat the Lord's Prayer and be thinking of something else all the time? Too often people found thrills palling. Faith in God never palled. It never lost its thrill. Religion had not lost its power but too often too much thought was given to the form, to theologies—an impersonal discussion of modernism versus fundamentalism. Christianity was not a proxy religion. It was a living vital force. Christ lived it daily in all his contacts and, when He said "Follow Me," he meant people to live similarly.

The special anthem by the Junior Choir in the morning was W. H. Jude's setting of "There is a Happy Land." In the evening Dr. R. G. Large sang "How Lovely are Thy Dwellings" in fine style. The choir sang "The Lord God Will Wipe Away All Tears" and "Hear Then, in Love, O Lord the Cry."
