DRAMA OF DRAMATICS

Ktharine Hepburn, Ginger Rogers and Adolphe Menjou Head Cast Of "Stage Door"

The varied experience of a group of girls with ambitions for the stage residing in a theatrical boarding house comprises the theme of the drama "Stage Door," starring Katharine Hepburn, Ginger Rogers and Adolphe Menjou, which is the feature presentation of the screen at the Capitol Theatre here this week-end.

The spotlight is focused on an imperious society beauty who has run away from home to satisfy a longing for the theatre and upon a resourceful youngster with unusual dancing ability. When the society girl wins a coveted role in a big production because her father has secretely financed the play, another girl who has aspired to the role breaks under the strain and commits suicide. How the tragedy reacts on her former companions, the society girl and the dancer in particular, builds up to a powerful climax.

Miss Hepburn is cast as the wealthy girl while Ginger Rogers portrays the role of the vivacious dancer. The supporting cast includes such well known favorites as Gail Patrick, Constance Collier, Andrea Leeds, Samuel Hinds and Lucille Ball.
