NEWS OF THE MINES

Marmot River Properties Ship Good Ore to Local Sampling Plant—Anyox Plant Being Razed—Development of War Minerals in Interior

Thirteen tons of high grade gold ore from Marmot River properties on Portland Canal near Stewart have arrived for treatment at the Prince Rupert ore sampling plant. Seven tons came form the Gold Boulder group of the Stewart Canal Gold Co. property on which Arthur Cameron and associates are extending the drift on a vein that carries, beside milling grade ore, a nice grade of shipping ore. It is proposed to continue work on this property as long as possible, making shipments at regular intervals. This ore is being extracted in the course of mine development work. The remaining six tons of the Marmot River shipment came from ore extracted in the course of development of the Gold Drop group owned by Joe Moran and Albert Carey. Both of these properties are ideally located within two miles of tidewater.

Wrecking crews of the A. R. Williams Machinery Co. of Vancouver are now engaged in dismantling what remains of the mining and smelting plants of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. at Anyox which a few years ago took over from Granby Co. Regular shipments of the old machinery are being taken south each week.

First large scale development of cinnabar ore in British Columbia to produce mercury will be undertaken by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. at Pinchi Lake near Fort St. James, it is announced. A reduction plant to recover the mercury will be installed, the company deciding that sufficient exploration has been done to warrant the development. Consolidated optioned this property from a group of Fort St. James residents in October 1938 and has steadily carried on development since that time. The work has consisted of stripping and cross-cutting the showings at a depth of over one hundred feet, vertically coupled with a diamond drilling campaign under the supervision of F. Bronlund. The provincial government has agreed to build a winter road a short distance from the Fort St. James-Manson Creek highway into the property to facilitate the transportation of machinery and supplies. This move on the part of Consolidated, it is confidently expected, will provide the necessary impetus to start the opening up of other known bodies of cinnabar, maganese, molyddenum and tungsten ores as well as free gold quartz, silver-lear-zinc and the copper deposits of the district. Since the 1870's the Omineca district has made substantial contributions to the annual placer gold recovery of this province but it has only been in the last few years, through the building of good roads connecting the district with the outside, that lode mining has received attention. With the success of Consolidated, it is possible that many more companies may be induced to give the district a closer investigation. Dr. Harry Warren, professor of geology at the University of British Columbia, recently pointed out that there is a huge area along the eastern contact zone favorable to the deposition of mercury. Outcrops of cinnabar in the vicinity of Stuart Lake are doubtless a portion of the area which Dr. Warren referred to. There is likely to be a considerable movement of prospectors into this area during the next season because of the increased demand and higher prices now obtaining for mercury. Mercury is very scarce at present in this part of the country.

Grade of ore $3 per ton more than in the previous month was responsible for higher production by Surf Inlet Consolidated Gold Mines Ltd. in October of this year. From 2,493 tons milled the output was 1,084 ounces or a gross value of $37,878, an average of $15.21. In September production was reported at $29,120 from 2,384 tons milled, an average of $12.21 per ton. Underground development at the Property is reported to be proceeding satisfactorily. Value of monthly production since March is announced as follows: March, $37,816; April, $36,673; May, $36,792; June, $43,319; July, $36,167; August, $30,537; September, $29,120; October, $37,828.

Fred M. Wells, one of the real old timers of prospecting and mine development in British Columbia and well known in Prince Rupert district, is now engaged in developing a gold quartz showing on Keithley Creek in the Barkerville district which he has named the Snowshoe.
