UNIVERSITY IS VALUED

Professor Buck Gives Interesting Outline of Work Being Done At Point Grey

The University is the rock on which the Canada of the future will be built, according to Professor F. E. Buck of the University of British Columbia in his address to the Rotary Club yesterday. It is at the University that the builders of the nation will be trained. This training will enable them to keep ahead. Every hope for the future lies in the university.

Professor Buck told of the setting aside of the site for the University at Point Grey. He paid a compliment to Hon. T. D. Pattullo as the man who provided the land endowment which in the future would provide for the institution. Fifty years from now he expected there would be from forty to seventy-five thousand students.

Mentioning briefly the work that was being done in engineering, biology and agriculture, the speaker said that the industries of the province were being provided with trained men and for these were positions as fast as they became available. In agriculture alone 120 different phases of life were supplied with men. They found graduates in all the industries. People were demanding them.

Some of the work of the agricultural section of the university was then mentioned such as dealing with poultry diseases, in animal husbandry, artificial semination, in other branches such subjects as seed purification.

In order that they might improve the university the students have done wonderful work. In the first place they had brought home to the government the need of the new buildings at Point Grey. Later they had themselves raised the money with which to erect a gymnasium which was paid for in eight years. Then came the making of suitable playing fields, for the students and a grandstand costing $40,000. The money for this all was raised by the students and now they had in hand the erection of a union building, the centre for the social and recreational activities of the University.

THRILLING PICTURES

"They Made Me a Criminal," a melodramatic romance starring John Garfield and Gloria Dickson, and "Nancy Drew—Reporter," another of a series of the exploits of a newspaper girl portrayed by Bonita Granville, are double-billed on the current program at the Capitol Theatre here.

"They Made Me a Criminal" is a dramatic and exciting story in which John Garfield plays the part of a professional prize-fighter. A murder by the fighter's manager enters into the tale and makes an involved situation which culminates on a California ranch with Gloria Dickson providing the romantic interest. Claude Rains and May Robson are also important members of the cast in which "The Dead End Kids" are included.

In "Nancy Drew—Reporter," Bonita Granville becomes a reporter by winning a contest at a school of journalism. She shows ingenuity when running on to the story of the murder by poison of a wealthy old woman. With the aid of her boy friend she proceeds to solve the mystery and encounters plenty of danger, adventure and excitement in so doing. Other leading members of the cast are Frankie Thomas and John Litel.

OPENING AN INDIAN RELIGIOUS FSTIVAL

The Raj Kumar, of Mahisadal, (small state in Bengal, India), is shown giving the first pull on one of the huge ropes to start the traditional religious car festival observed in the state annually. Thousands of pilgrims grasp these ropes and haul cars containing images of their gods. In earlier years the huge vehicles sometimes became uncontrollable and crushed many of the pilgrims beneath the wheels.

MAKE CITY BIG CENTR

Speaker at Rotary Luncheon Idealizes Prince Rupert as Centre in, to Travel Instinct of World

The development of Prince Rupert as a tourist and travel centre should be the great aim of the citizens just now. This is the opinion of Prof. F. E. Buck of the University of British Columbia as expressed in an address to the Prince Rupert Rotary Club at its luncheon yesterday afternoon.

Professor Buck said he was most intrigued as he visualized the future of Prince Rupert. He was very much pleased with the scenery along the hundreds of miles of coast line. There was an empire of forests, an empire of rock suitable for mining development and an empire of the sea with its fishing possibilities. There had to be a centre serving this Empire and Prince Rupert was not it, then another place would be developed to fill the need. Such a city must be compact, unique in its setting, isolated, central and it must develop into a resort city, one of the top cities of the world. All developments and improvements should have this in view.

The visitor said that Prince Rupert must be connected with the world by highway, by steamship and also become a centre for the important air lines.

Developing his subject briefly the speaker said that, with shortening hours of labor, some outlet for activities was needed. This would be found in travel. The travel instinct would be developed. Prince Rupert should think in terms of providing for this. Otherwise she would be just like other places.

Professor Buck strongly approved the zoning by-law which provides a definite plan for development of the city. It was necessary that the city have a plan.

Timely Recipes

PEACH PIE

2 cups sifted flour
1 cup shortening
¾ tsp. salt
4-6 tbsp. cold water.

Sift flour and salt. Cut in shortening, using a pastry blender or two knifes, until the crumbs are about the size of beans. Sprinkle a little water over one portion and mix to dough. Add water to second portion. When all is blended, roll to ⅛ inch thickness. This method prevents the addition of too much water.

Line a 9-inch plate and fill with sliced peaches. Add ½ cup granullated sugar and 2 tsp. quick tapioca. Dot with 2 tbsp. butter. Cover upper crust and bake in a very hot oven 30 minutes. Reduce heat and continue baking for 10 minutes.

ROOKIE'S BIG DEBUT

CHICAGO, Sept. 1: (CP)— Bill Nichólson is only a rookie but, in his first appearance with the Cubs here, he made a sensational one-handed catch in the field, then went to bat and hit a home-run.
