Canadian Indian Is Doing Well

Increasing In Numbers, Going Into Farming In Several Provinces

OTTAWA, April 30: (CP)— Talk about the "vanishing American" is out of date and the Indian Affairs Branch of the Mines and Resources Department reveals that the British crown had 118,406 Indian subjects in Canada in 1939 compared with 112,510 in 1934.

Some of them, taking more and more to the ways of white men, are prosperous farmers. Others, living in more remote regions, still depend mainly on hunting, fishing and trapping for their existence and by wild life conservation the government is seeking to assure them of a livelihood.

In southern Ontario, Quebec and parts of the Maritime Provinces the Indians are engaged largely in agriculture while the hunters roam the great hinterland comprising the northern areas from the north shore of the St. Lawrence River to the Mackenzie River valley and the Yukon.

In the Great Plains region, where the buffalo once provided the Indians with food and clothing, the aborigines have turned farmer, many of them with great success, while on the Pacific Coast the Indians have earned themselves a high place in the fishing industry.

"Rulers of the Sea" Is Thrilling Feature Picture For First Of Week at Capitol Theatre

A boy and a girl whose love and courage defied a world that said it could not be done and helped achieve the triumph of the first transAtlantic crossing by steam are played by Douglas Fairbanks jr. and Margaret Lockwood in "Rulers of the Sea," spectacular feature picture on the screen of the Capitol Theatre for the first half of this week. The brilliant Scottish character actor, Will Fyffe, is also starred with the American actor and the beautiful British actress. The story charts the victory of steam over sail, the first crossing of the western ocean by steam alone and the founding of the great Cunard Line.

The story of the picture in the period between 1836 and 1838 is set in four major locales— the shipbuilding town of Greenock-on-Clyde, the ports of New York and London and the wild reaches of the North Atlantic as seen from the decks of two ships. The research material for the picture was accumulated from factual volumes, early shipping reports, old logs and marine records.

Douglas Fairbanks jr. plays the heroic part of a young first mate. Will Fyffe is the engine inventor. Margaret Lockwood is Fairbank's sweetheart and Fyffe's daughter. George Bancroft plays the part of a skipper and Montagu Love is Fyffe's employer.

Fine New Harbor Craft Nearing Completion—Four Halibut Boats Sell in Seattle

First sedan streamline cruiser in Prince Rupert Harbor and first boat here to be equipped with a Buchanan gas engine, the new 28-foot yacht for S. G. Mellor, chief operator of Digby Island wireless station, has many other distinctive features. The hull built by Ed Wahl of Dodge Cove and the upper works largely the production of Mr. Mellor himself, representing weeks of painstaking and devoted labor, the new boat will be ready for engine installation in about two weeks' time and, soon after that, the vessel should be running. Delivery of the motor, a 60 h.p. machine, will soon be made from Vancouver. With a beam of nine feet four inches, the John Lloyd, as she is being named in honor of the owner's young son, is a handsome craft on the exterior and in the interior will be as finely appointed and equipped as any local yacht. The hull is of stouter construction than the original specifications called for. The beam is substantial but the running lines should combine efficiency with utility. The upper works are finished throughout with clear varnished Phillipine mahogany and the stem is of polished gumwood, this matching attractively with the white hull. In the streamline effect, line of cabin, windows etc. are all interestingly rounded off. At present in a shed at the head of Dodge Cove, not many have yet seen the John Lloyd which will be one of this season's most discussed harbor craft in Prince Rupert. Mr. Mellor expects to get a speed of about ten miles per hour. Negotiations are under way for the sale of Mr. Mellor's present boat, I'm Alone.

Four halibut boats sold catches totalling 105,000 pounds in Seattle yesterday as follows: Columbia, 40,000 pounds, Washington, 9⅛c and 8.5c; Liberty, 40,000 pounds, Sebastian, 9⅞c and 8c; Maddock, 14,000 pounds, Booth, 10c and 8.5c; Unimak, 11,000 pounds, Whiz, 9½c and 8½c. The price for ling cod at Seattle yesterday was 2c per pound, red, 3c and sable, 5c.

Capt. Ole Batvold, arriving in Seattle with his halibut boat Constitution, told of having been halted by the coastguard on the fishing grounds with the routine inquiry if he had any firearms aboard. The coastguard was engaged in convoying the northbound seal herds. The Constitution had no firearms.
