At the Theatre

ALLEN PLAYERS EARN APPLAUSE BY GOOD WORK

The longer the popular Allen Stock Company remains in the city the stronger is the hold they are obtaining over the theatre-going public of Prince Rupert. Their production last evening of that famous New York play, "The Third Degree," was by far the best offering they have so far given.

The opera house was well filled and it was immediately patent that the clever company had captured the house and were going to make the hit of the engagement. The play itself, dealing as it does with a fascinating phase of modern New York life, grips the audience from the very moment the curtain first goes up. The plot and dialogue are of the highest order and afford an evening's entertainment that to have missed would have been a misfortune truly. The cast and staging were excellent. Miss Verna Felton played the lead in her usual artistic and original manner, acting the part of the poor little New York factory girl married to the son of one of New York's four hundred in a most realistic and engaging fashion. Miss Etta Farnsworth played the wife of the millionaire aristocrat in a finished and natural manner, being especially good in the emotional scenes. Mr. J. I. Mitchell, a most clever and painstaking young actor, shows his histrionic ability to a marked degree, being a great favorite with the audience in the juvenile roles. G. D. Zucco amazed his many admirers by his portrayal of the strong character part of the famous New York international lawyer, his makeup, voice and general conception of the part being beyond criticism. Mr. Biron Eagan was clever and consistent in the dual roles of Robert Underwood and Mr. Jones, the big attorney's chief clerk. Arthur Kenke, who is a clever and versatile young actor, sustained the trying character of the police captain in a most acceptable fashion, whilst Messrs. Charles Stokes, Raymond Ripley and Charles Harris in their various minor parts were each of them excellent.

This evening the successful engagement will close with that well known drama of modern western life, "The Great Divide," which is especially suited to the company's powers, and the farewell performance is bound to receive the patronage of a packed house.

Owing to the celebration in honor of the Duke of Connaught, who will be in this city on Wednesday of next week, the sale of work and entertainment to be held in the Salvation Army Citadel has been postponed until the following Monday, September 30, when several other attractions will be added to the entertainment.

The ladies of Prince Rupert are invited to visit the grand opening of millinery, dresses, suits and coats for fall and winter wear at Demers', 3rd Ave., on Saturday.

T. W. Estelle, representing J. S. McMillan, with large interests on the Queen Charlotte Islands, is in the city on his way south to spend the winter.

Customs forms of all kinds at the Daily News office.

MEDICINAL HOT SPRINGS DISCOVERED AT LAKELSE

waters of the springs be used for medicinal purposes, but will be used throughout the buildings for heating as well as general use. Lakelse is situated in one of the best game districts in British Columbia, and a more desirable place for a vacation could not be imagined. Copper City is at present the nearest railway station. It is twelve miles from the lake, but a shorter route will soon be open.

At the present time there is a big log hotel there, doing a good business, which will be superseded next spring by the more ambitious structure. Mr. Rochfort, who is secretary of the Stewart Land Co., with headquarters in Victoria, is a man of considerable experience and judgment in regard to pioneer development.

"The visitor to Prince Rupert who never goes farther than the townsite," said Mr. Rochfort, "can never get a true idea of this city's value and importance in the future. One has to see with one's own eyes the immense natural resources at our very doors to get a real conception of Prince Rupert's possibilities as the distributing point and port of entry of Northern and Central B. C. Visitors to the district who make a point of going up the line of the G. T. P. and to the various islands are enthusiastic over the immense possibilities ahead of Prince Rupert as the latest terminal of a transcontinental railroad."

See Hart's stock of Kitchen Queens. They are just what you require. Why not buy NOW while they are cheap? Price $12.70. 221

Don't miss seeing the Allen Players tonight in "The Great Divide." This will conclude their present engagement. 221

NEWS NOTES OF THE GREAT WEST

Work has been commenced on the Royal Alexandra Hotel, First street, Edmonton. The foundation is going in this fall and the building will be rushed to completion next season. It will be six storeys in height, and provision will be made for four additional storeys. It will contain two hundred rooms and cost $350,000.

The Bank of Ottawa is building a $100,000 addition at Winnipeg. An automobile manufacturer says the prosperity of Calgary is evident from the large number of cars ordered here.

Victoria street car passengers from September 1st to 7th, 1912, numbered 224,400. During the same period in 1911 they totalled 192,935. Building permits from September 1st to 7th, this year, were $72,700. Last year they were $54,850.

Bylaws carrying water and light extensions, and hydro-electric plant for using unlimited power and amounting to $450,000, passed by big majority at Kamloops.

The Vancouver Progress Club has completed moving to permanent quarters, and is now busy preparing for opening the permanent provincial resources exposition. Vancouver will be the Pacific port for grain from eighty elevators in Alberta and Western Saskatchewan recently purchased by Sir Max Aitken and associates. The city awards a $415,000 contract for a street viaduct.

A progressive farmer on the North Thompson River, twelve miles from Kamloops, is preparing an agricultural show in an exhibit hall built by himself on his own farm, to demonstrate the fertility of the soil of the valley and the success attained through intelligent farming. The scheme is a new one and must prove beneficial.

The estimated average yields of wheat in the Regina district this year are 19.6 bushels to the acre, against 18.5 last year.

Holders of tickets for the concert to be given during the royal visit can exchange same for reserved seats between the hours of 4 and 6 p. m., Thursday, Sept. 19th, at box office, Westholme Theatre. 220-221
