NEW SOUTH WALES GOVERNMENT TO HAVE VERY BUSY SESSION

Proposal to Make 44 Hour Week Legal in That State and Make Other Changes

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Oct. 28. — The first working session of the present Parliament of New South Wales, which has just been opened, promises to be a strenuous one, and if all the proposals submitted by the Labor Government be given effect it will be a notable one also. The program contained, in addition to important industrial proposals, ameliorative measures relating to primary producers, economic correctives — especially in the direction of reducing the great difference between the prices paid to primary producers for their products and those paid by the consumer, as well as social improvements, and the vigorous application of a development policy as affecting both primary and secondary industries.

The most important of the industrial proposals is the re-introduction of the 44-hour working week, and the setting up of a state system of unemployed and social insurance. With regard to the former Hon. T. T. Lang, the Premier, claims that the State's previous experience of the shorter working week had shown clearly that the fears expressed by political opponents had not been realized, and that on the contrary the progress of New South Wales had been just as sound and vigorous as ever. In support of that he has quoted comparative official statistics prepared by an unbiased authority, which shows that in both primary and secondary production there were marked increases while the 44-hour week was in force before.

"No – I've not boiled any garments since"

"A friend suggested that I stop boiling the clothes I washed and try Rinso, which I did, with such delightful results that I have not boiled any garments since then.

"I found that Rinso is excellent for removing finger prints from white paint and for washing all woodwork.

"It has cut my house cleaning troubles in half and consequently I felt that it was only your due to know that Rinso has a much bigger work to do in our house than just to clean the dirt from our laundry."

The makers of Rinso receive many such letters as this. For Rinso not only does the family wash merely by soaking—it is also excellent for many household duties, such as cleaning woodwork, scrubbing floors, etc. Order Rinso today.

The girl you leave behind you

Just stop a moment and think about the way she spends her day—that girl you leave behind you. While you are working she is at home working with her hands. Perhaps washing the same cups and saucers that she washed yesterday and will wash on many tomorrows.

Perhaps doing the week's washing. In YOUR work is variety—interest—growth; in hers only dullnes — sameness—stagnation.

Talk it over with the girl you leave behind you. See how glad she will be to say farewell to wash day.

A fair trial of our family services will give your wife many new hours for her family and herself.

Have her phone The Canadian Steam Laundry and you'll be coming home to more cheerful welcomes from a fresher, happier girl.
