BOOST ALWAYS, AND BE AUTHENTIC.

Some western cities and towns would be unknown were it not for the suburban real estate man, whose large, gaudy signs and pictures depict impossible improvements; other places with splendid possibilities are unknown because of the lassitude and indifference of their inhabitants. Investors pass on from the place where the people don't believe in the old adage, "Th good Lord helps those who first help themselves."

What is it that constitutes the personal "helping"? Is it in misrepresentation of the advantages, soil, climate; or is it in the placing on tour some learned man to tell of the wonders of that particular place? No. The best way to advance a city, town or village is to take a pride in that city. In hundreds of cities in Canada today can be found business men who cannot tell who their ward alderman is, and only take an interest in civic affairs when they pay their taxes. Let the glad hand be given to every visitor who comes into the place. Make him remember his visit with a sigh of regret that it was so short; and be on good terms with one another, for "a house divided cannot stand." Lastly but not least, patronize the town paper or papers. It is from them that those who are unfortunate enough to be unable to visit a place in which they are interested draw their conclusions. From the advertisements the volume of trade and the enterprise of the citizens is learned. The place that can't support the papers that are trying to advance the city is, in the eyes of the investor, a poor place in which to sink his capital.

EMPEROR GIVEN HONOR BY KING BRITISH EMPIRE

Tokio, Japan, Sept. 18.—With elaborate ceremony today, Prince Arthur of Connaught, representative of King George, invested the Emperor with the insignia of the Order of the Garter. The Empress, members of the Imperial family, cabinet, elder statesmen and councillors were present.

Laurier Asks Justice From East For West

Sturgeon Falls, Sept. 18.—Laurier was given a great ovation here when he spoke. He pledged the Liberals to the policy of extension of trade and said that this policy would bring them into power again. He made a plea for justice for the west on the question of reciprocity.

SUICIDES INCREASING

The Journal of the American Medical Association in its latest issue (August 31) calls attention to the alarming increase of suicide in this country. Our suicide rate is now above 16 in 100,000 of population, and last year there were some 15,000 suicides in the United States. In our cities during the last twenty years the suicide rate has risen from somewhat more than 12 in 100,000 of population to more than 20 in 100,000.

The larger cities of the country, those above 250,000 in population, used to hold the unenviable distinction of a much higher suicide rate than the smaller cities, but in seventy-nine cities under the quarter of a million mark the suicide rate was last year equal to or above that of the twenty-one larger cities.

The overstrained life, the haste to make money at any cost, so inevitably full of sore disappointment, has now spread beyond the more crowded centres of population and is sapping contentment with modest means and conditions of life that used to characterize the smaller towns. Feverish solicitude about everything has in many instances replaced calmer striving and its satisfactions.

The results as revealed in statistics are startling, but worth knowing for the sake of the stimulus they give to a large sympathy with the failures in life, for many can thus be saved from themselves. The figures also are valuable because of the light they throw on an unfortunate forced artificial development of one phase of our modern civilization as exhibited in city life. Such knowledge will foster openness of mind for suggestions as to the sad need of reform of social conditions.

CHIEF JUSTICE CAN DELIBERATE WITH COUNCIL

(Special to Daily News.) Ottawa, Sept. 19.—Arrangements have been reached whereby the Chief Justice of Canada may exercise the right, hitherto little exercised, of sitting with the Imperial Privy Council when a Canadian case is being heard.

LABOR FOR G. T. P.

Toronto, Sept. 14.—A Grand Trunk special train from Montreal will pass through Toronto some time today, carrying several hundred construction laborers to western camps of the G. T. P. This consignment will be followed by others to fill the depleted ranks of help in British Columbia and Alberta camps. The canvassing for laborers, following closely on the return of President Chamberlin, points to further energetic efforts to recruit labor in the east. When passing through Toronto Mr. Chamberlin said that the dearth of labor was the only hindrance to the rapid construction of work along the G. T. P. line. The destination of this party is Tete Jaune Cache, on the eastern side of the Rockies.

TO BE BRITISH BUILT.

Ottawa, Sept. 18.—The first contract for the first vessel for government service was let to an English firm, Thorycroft, of Southampton. This first new armed steamer is for the customs patrol service on the St. Lawrence. The price contracted for is believed to be $75,000.

Fifteen boys, of from twelve to fifteen years of age, set fire to a farmer's home near Butte, Montana, and attempted to lynch him. They were arrested and given a hearing, but the cases were adjourned until next week.
