SMUGGLING TO BE ELIMINATED

Co-Operation with United States Expected to Result in Getting Better Results

VANCOUVER, Sept. 2—A special despatch from Ottawa to the Star says: The anti-smuggling drive of the Customs Department got into swing today after conference with the Canadian representatives who attended the Washington discussion this week. A force of 200 secret service men has been organized and is being drafted into action. All departments of the government have been ordered to co-operate. A striking feature of the campaign is the employment of an airplane patrol at Vancouver. The sky pilots will escort all incoming and outgoing vessels to see there is no touch with shore and that Customs laws are obeyed.

An airplane patrol, supplied by the Canadian military air force at Jericho beach, was decided upon as Vancouver's first fighting unit in the war on smugglers by the Dominion government, according to advices received from Ottawa today continues the Star.

Special Customs officers and Dominion detectives also will be stationed here, some of them specially chosen from their inside knowledge of rum-running, dope trading and alien trafficking. Ottawa has begun drafting first men into the special contingent of 200 and selected men will be sent out to this port with authority to add to their numbers after a careful survey of distict requirements.

With these first steps the Dominion of Canada sealed its agreement with the United States signed at Washington at the beginning of this week in the formation of a double border patrol that will make a co-operative army designed to suppress all forms of illicit international trade.

Campaign Against Crime

While Ottawa strengthened Vancouver's hand in the campaign against crime that has hitherto baffled the regular customs officials, Canadian mounted police and provincial police, federal and state authorities on the other side of the line began to build up their part of the program. First results of the drive were seen in Victoria today, where three men, two speed boats and a quantity of liquor were held after Seattle officers had informed a Canadian revenue boat where to find the liquor-running fleet at Discovery Island.

The "tip-off" system, regarded as one of the strong points in the great international drive, began working in Vancouver today, it is said, when various departments of the government were directed to assist the United States forces in every possible way. This is interpreted as a direct order to Customs and other inspectors and their subordinates to advise the new border police body here of any liquor cargoes about to leave which might have suspicious aspects.

When the force now being enlisted at Ottawa is completed and the chief of the Coast Patrol reaches this city, the "tip-off" information will be properly sorted and despatched to the proper authorities in the United States. This "inside information" will then be supplemented by the patrol's own detectives. Well-known ex-bootleggers and several suspected hi-jackers residing in this port are ear-marked as probable unofficial recruits in the new service.

Strategic Point

Vancouver was chosen, at the conference now proceeding in Ottawa, as one of the strategic points from which the new international espionage and discipline system will be strictly applied. At this part of the discussion the airplane decision was arrived at. Officials pointed out that owing to the intricate coast line here and the many channels for sly business, water craft could not hope to compete successfully against the entrenched liquor industry. This was only one part of the work, for the dope smugglers required constant checking. Consequently it was felt that only eyes from the air could be expected to spot all the "devltry" that was going on against law and order.

STATIC ELECTRICITY CAUSES AUTO FIRES

Spark Sometimes Results From Filling of Tank Through Rubber Hose

LONDON, Sept. 2.—A peculiar mishap with a Ford motor car the other day has revealed a danger to which special attention has been drawn in the report of his Majesty's Inspectors of Explosives.

It has been discovered that the mere filling of a petrol tank may cause enough friction electricity to make a spark and set the car on fire. Unhappily the accident led to a fatal fire, and experiments have shown that the danger is all the greater when the petrol is run through a pipe, especially a rubber one, into the petrol tank of the car.

The big Shell petrol works at Shell Haven have issued strict orders that before filling the tank of any car the tank must be connected to the earth by means of an iron chain. The car, having rubber tires, is insulated from the earth, but the iron chain conducts to the earth the static electricity generated by the friction of the oil running through the pipe or into the tank.

MUMMIFICATION OF BODY IN FEW YEARS

Woman Buried in 1912 Found to be in Perfect State of Preservation

NAPLES, Sept. 2.— A striking example of the mummification of a human body by natural processes has been discovered at Vatolla, in the province of Salerno, with the exhumation of the body of a local resident, Rosa Scarpa, who died in 1912. The body was found to be in a perfect state of preservation; even her clothes were in a sort of petrified condition, but retained their original colors.

Thinking the mummification process might have been due to peculiar chemical qualities of the soil, the authorities ordered the opening of an adjacent grave, but the corpse in the latter grave had completely decomposed. This therefore, led to the belief among devout natives that a miracle had been wrought.

COACH APPOINTED AT VICTORIA HIGH SCHOOL

VICTORIA, Sept. 2.—A coach for the school teams has been appointed in the person of William Gordon Brandrith, who will also act as physical instructor. He was physical instructor at the summer school for teachers recently concluded here.

The trustees are desirous to encourage the playing of school games and a good deal of Mr. Brandrith's work will consist in organizing, training and encouraging pupils in athletic games and sports.

CALLIES WIN GILHULY CUP

Game Last Night Resulted in Score of Two to Nil Against Sons of England

Defeating the Sons of England two to nil, the Callies last night won their third football trophy of the season, the Gilhuly Cup. The Scots were value for their win, though the Sons had a fair share of the play in a ragged game which, as far as play was concerned, might have been good for a 2-1 score. The Englishmen, especially Johnson and Russell on the forward line, missed several scoring chances.

The game was late in starting and the fog and rain interfered with play. The Callies had the grade in their favor in the first half and Scott opened the scoring from close in on a rebound after McDougall had hit the post. The second goal came in the second half, when Scott scored on a cross from Alex Mitchell.

Tom Jones was referee, A. Clapperton and J. G. Johnston were linesmen, and the team took the field as follows:

Callies—E. McLean; M. Andrews and J. Harris; G. Mitchell, S. Currie and R. Wood; A. Mitchell, R. McDougall, D. Scott, W. Mitchell and W. Hamilton.

Sons of England—A. Dickens; G. Waugh and G. Howe; H. Hanson, A. Bales and G. Kelsey; B. Long, F. Russell, J. Johnson, D. Gurvich and J. Farquhar.

The final standing for the Gilhuly Cup is as follows:

	W.	L.	Pts.
Callies	4	0	8
Sons of England	2	2	4
Cold Storage	0	4	0

Sport Chat

For the first time in many years, it begins to look now as if New York will not participate in the World's Series. The Yankees have been out of the running for some time, with Manager Huggins trying to blame Babe Ruth and vice versa. Now the proteges of Manager John McGraw, the Giants, have been slipping in such a manner lately that it now looks like a pretty safe bet that they will not be there when the big spoils are divided next month at the World's Series. The Pittsburgh Pirates now look good to win the National pennant, while it appears that there will yet be a struggle between the Washington Senators and the Philadelphia Athletics for American League supremacy.

Prince Rupert players and fans during the next ten days will be host to visiting aggregations from various parts or the north. The New Metlakatlan baseball team is here today, and next week baseball aggregations will come from Ketchikan and Anyox. There will also be a football eleven from Ocean Falls. The locals should remember that they are hosts and act as such, but should not make their hospitality overflow. While the visitors should be given all good treatment and be shown every courtesy, there should be no action but that will make for clean and full competition between the various aggregations. May the games be played for the sake of good sport and may the best teams win!

Miss S. A. Mills, principal of Borden Street School, returned to the city on the Prince Rupert this morning after having spent the summer vacation in Victoria.
