MERRY FILM ON HOLIDAY

"My Sister Eileen," With Rosalind Russell and Brian Aherne Here

"My Sister Eileen," filmization of the uproarious Broadway stage success of the same name, comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here as the feature offering for New Year's Day and Saturday. Rosalind Russell, Briane Aherne and Janet Blair are stars of a cast which also includes George Tobias, Allyn Joslyn, Miss Jeff Donnell, Richard Quine, June Havoc, Donald McBride, Frank Sully, Gordon Jones, Grant Mitchell and Elizabeth Patterson.

Miss Russell and Miss Blair are two sisters who come to New York to win fame and fortune as author and actress respectively. One is a reasonably level-headed individual but the kid sister is a blonde and devastating young woman who manages to get into one difficulty after another in quick succession. Both girls complicate their residence in New York by choosing as residence a Greenwich village basement apartment which becomes the happy hunting ground of every wolf in New York. As editor of a sophisticated magazine, Aherne helps both girls achieve their ambitions but not until they have involved themselves and him in a series of delirious complications.

The local fuel situation, which is becoming fairly critical, came in for consideration by the local rationing board, which was in session Tuesday night with the chairma, Mayor William M. Watts, presiding, and a committee consisting of H. A. Breen and Ald. Norah Arnold was delegated to investigate, among other things, the possibility of salvaging wood from local construction projects.

New Year Ahead!

There's a little calendar
By the office Desk of our Store that is near its
Last Stage of Usefulness
And will have to give place
To a Brand New one.
We kind of hate to see that
Little Calendar go
Because it has watched us
Go through some real paces
And helped us in keeping
Track of our progress.
Now 1943 is coming round
The bend and we hope it
Will be brimful of good
Things and many rich
Blessings for you and
Your loved ones.
