"BELOW THE LINE" WITH RIN-TIN-TIN

New Picture Said to be Wonder Dog's Best

"Below the Line," classic of the screen which comes Tuesday, has for its theme the exciting story of a vicious, snarling dog made loyal and brave through loving training. Rin-Tin-Tin, who will be remembered by all enthusiasts of dog pictures, for his remarkable work. June Marlowe, the girl "with the soulful eyes," who has appeared with Rinty in previous photoplays, is with him again in "Below the Line" as the heroine, May Barton. John Harron plays Donald Cass, an uncouth but kindly boy who, together with May Barton, befriends Rinty.

Pat Hartigan, famous for his screen villainies, is the village bully, Jamber Niles, who attacks and robs a wealthy young woman and then attempts to steal the church funds from Donald; and Victor Potel appears as Jamber's half-witted brother.

The climax of the picture comes when the half-wit lets loose a pack of bloodhounds to follow Donald and May and Rinty flings himself at the pack. The terrific dog-fight, brutal as it looks on the screen, has the indorsement of the Santa Monica Humane Society for being filmed without injury to the dogs.

PRODIGAL SON SHOWN THEATRE THIS WEEK

Story From Bible Translated Into Everyday Characters With Great Effect

Way back in the days when caravans were popular instead of automobiles and caravansaries were the forerunners of road houses, the prodigal son left home to become a self-made-man — with the aid of his father's coffers and advice. The former he clutched and the latter he cussed as he mounted his mule and set out for the city under the villainous guidance of a wicked merchant. For then, even as now, there were sirens and scoundrels, gamblers and pawnbrokers to make the road to the city attractive and easy going for the country boy.

With the siren's help he saw the town—so thoroughly that he was soon hotfooting it for home, this time cherishing his father's advice and cussing the coffers.

The play is the week end offering here.

CONWAY TEARLE IN THE SPORTING LOVER

Conway Tearle, popular screen hero, who was formerly associated with the famous Drury Lane Theatre in London, is, by a strange co-incidence, the star in a film version of one of the most successful of the Drury Lane plays. This is "The Sporting Lover," which will be shown here Wednesday and Thursday.

In play form "The Sporting Lover" was known as "Good Luck." It is a story of an adventuresome Irish army officer who gambles away his famous racing stables and then wagers with his rival for the hand of the lady he loves.

The central episode of "The Sporting Lover" is the renowned English Derby. The race was actually filmed in the British Isles and shows the King and Queen, in addition to a vast company of royalty, present in the boxes.

Tearle for a time acted in a number of Drury Lane hits. This experience particularly fits him for plays of this kind.

FINE BASEBALL GAME SUNDAY

All Stars Beat Gyros One to Nil in One of Best Matches Ever Seen Here

One of the best exhibitions of baseball seen here in many a day was the game at the Acropolis Hill grounds yesterday afternoon when an all-star team from the league defeated the Gyro Club, city champions, by a score of 1 to nil. It was a pitcher's duel and the moundsmen were accorded splendid support by their fielders. The one and only run came in the fifth inning when a brace of timely hits gave the All Stars their lone tally. Two snappy double plays featured the game. The batteries were: Loblic and Downey for the All Stars and Schenkler and McKeown for the Gyros.

SPORT CHAT

Prince Rupert outdoor sport fans will see the concluding basketball and football games of the season during the coming week and the program in most respects is a satisfactory one, although some of the football enthusiasts might have liked to have seen more outside competition in that line. The Prince Rupert-Ketchikan baseball series, games being scheduled for Thursday and Friday afternoons, will as usual attract large crowds especially now since the local team is in much better shape. Boxing fans will have an opportunity to see the first exhibition of the manly art staged here for some time on Thursday evening. The native sports on Saturday also give promise of being well patronized.

Prof. S. Takayashi of San Francisco, jiu-jitsu wrestler, who attracted considerable attention in the city and district a couple of years ago, is again in town having arrived from Ketchikan at the end of the week. He announces that he is ready to meet all comers, large or small, who offer in the city. Since his last appearance here a couple of years ago, Takahashi has engaged in some rather important bouts in the south and has a victory of Jairinda Gobar, the Hindu wrestler, to his credit. At Port Essington on September 3 Takahashi defeated Gus Spartos who issued a challenge here recently.

Japanese wrestler who is in the city again looking for a bout.
