ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A.

By DOROTHY GARBUTT

Chester and I went gathering greenery yesterday. We felt so merry and rustic, slipping up and down the rock and sliding in and out of the muskeg. And as we came home full of folk songs and a fal-de-la-de la-la we happened to meet Sergeant Mead. Says I very brightly: "We've been gathering greenery, Mr. Mead." Says he; "So I see, we threw ours all out today,,. Somehow the remark, made all in good faith I know, struck us so funny and we laughed the rest of the afternoon. It was just as though he had said: "Yes I now, you poor dears, but haven't you heard, Christmas is over?" Seriously though, I don't see why we ever bother with cut flowers and expensive blooms here with the wealth of evergreens and bright berries all around. The only thing is they might be a bit prickly for a corsage.

Don Forward has returned from a visit to Prince George and stations enroute and from a flying visit to his family in Vancouver

Lester Patrick says he has just built a brand new body for his talented little partner in his ventriloquist act. George says he feels much more professional and able to cope with Charlie MacArthur and such notables in his own line of business

To bad we haven't any phone booths in Prince Rupert be cause I just saw the finest little anti-chatter saying in a long time. It said —

"More loose change and less talk, please." Well, that could go for our long distance calls couldn't it? Except that the loose change you use in those is usually the folding kind.

It's been quiet around the 'Y' all day and I couldn't figure it out at all until I remembered that the Navy Band, complete with Boomer Corlette, was away on furlough. Have a good time boys and none of this going adrift when its time to come home again.

Kamloops Girl Airman's Bride

A quiet and pretty wedding took place on New Year's Eve in the Manse of First Presbyterian Church, Prince Rupert, when Miss Dorothy Rosamond McGillivray, who had arrived in the city the day before from Kamloops, was united in marriage to Leading Aircraftsman John Maxwell Munro of Whitewood, at present stationed here with the service police unit of the Air Force. Rev. A. F. McSween officiated and the ceremony was witnessed by two other members of the Air Force, Sgt. John A. Smith and Jeanne Norrie of the Women's Division.

The newly married couple have been spending a few days honeymoon in the city and have been receiving the good wishes of many friends here and in their home communities.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO--

(January 8, 1919)

A municipal program advanced by the Prince Rupert Trades and Labor council at a meeting advocated the resurfacing of graded roads in the city, retention of Cow Bay for the fishing industry and the operation of the Prince Rupert General Hospital as a municipal institution.

At an installation of officers of the Oddfellows' Lodge J. E. Hillard held the post of Past Noble Grand, Arthur Brooksbank, financial secretary, and S. M. Newton, S. V. Cox and H. M. Daggett, arustees.

The report from the chief of police to the city council showed that in the month of December, 1918, there had been 29 cases tried, out of which 22 were convicted, four acquitted and three adjourned.

A stabbing affray which took place on Third Avenue Thursday night did not occur in the Royal Cafe. The proprietor of the cafe has requested that this be made clear.

ROMANCE OF STEEL CITY

Marlene Dietrich, Randolph Scott and John Wayne in "Pittsburg"

Violent melodrama, moving swiftly, is seen in the picture "Pittsburg" coming next Monday and Tuesday to the Capitol Theatre. The picture, deals intimately with the lives and loves of modern pioneers who have grown up and prospered together with Pennsylvania's great industrial metropolis.

Marlene Dietrich, Randolph Scott and John Wayne are co-starred in the cast which also features Frank Craven, Louise Allbritton and Shemp Howard. Important supporting roles are carried by Thomas Gomez, Ludwig Stossel and Samuel S. Hinds.

Action of the story follows the careers of three people, a girl and two men, who struggle dangerously, face hardship valiantly and are eventually united by the war effort. Miss Dietrich has the role of the girl a miner's daughter. Wayne and Scott appear as rivals for her attentions. Craven is seen as a scientist and Miss Allbritton's assignment is that of a debutante.

The romance, rivalry and adventures of the film's principal characters run closely parallel to the drama of the steel city itself and the climax of the story is declared to be ingeniously interwoven with the mighty swing-over to all-out war production.

In connection with a discussion by the city council at Monday night's meeting concerning the efforts of the military authorities to see that their drivers obeyed the traffic laws, it was stated that no communication had been received from the Canadian authorities in this regard. It has since been learned from Col. D. B. Martyn, area commanding officer, that military police have been patrolling the streets and have made a number of arrests for traffic violation by army drivers.
