INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS TRYING TO PROLONG LIFE

SCIENTISTS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD ARE IN CONVENTION AT WASHINGTON IN AN ENDEAVOR TO SOLVE THE RIDDLE OF HUMAN EXISTENCE—450 DELEGATES.

Washington, Sept. 27.—Longer human life is the object of the Fifteenth International Congress on Hygiene and Demography, which is meeting in convention here. Leaders of thought and action in modern sanitary science from all over the world to the number of 450 will appear on the platform to exchange information as to the more important accomplishments of recent years in prolonging life in their respective countries and sections and to make plans for the future.

Germany, France, Great Britain, Holland, Norway, Austria, Belgium, Italy and Switzerland are among the 27 governments sending official delegates to the congress. Men prominent in health-work in the United States are on the programme, including health officials of the Federal government and of many of the states and cities.

The congress is beyond question the most important meeting of sanitarians ever held in this country. An unusual opportunity will be afforded for comparing American methods of protecting human life with those of older countries.

Many agencies will be at work to utilize for the benefit of this country the vast fund of material that will be produced by the 450 speakers at the congress. Side by side with the public health officials will be found representatives of various large business institutions seeking knowledge that may be practically applied to bring about less disease and more life.

The congress is beyond question the most important meeting of sanitarians ever held in this country. An unusual opportunity will be afforded for comparing American methods of protecting human life with those of older countries. The contributions of those European countries in which the average length of life is considerably longer than in this country will be especially valuable.

Particular attention will be paid by the association's committee to the addresses and discussion dealing with the control of contagious diseases, including typhoid fever, diphtheria, cerebro spinal meningitis, tuberculosis, etc.; the sanitary aspect of public water supplies, including the sanitary control of water sheds, the purification of water by storage, water purification in Europe by biological methods; water sterilization by chemical methods and the disposal of sewage and wastes by the various processes now carried on in European countries.

Such results may be due to the kind of laws or regulations adopted, to the character of the officers enforcing the law, to the quality of public sentiment or to some other cause or combination of causes. When the cause is once ascertained steps will be taken by the life insurance interests to help in applying it or some proper modification of it to the situation in this country. It is expected, of course, to do this kind of work through co-operation with the various constituted authorities in the nation, the states and the municipalities.

Delighted With the North

Mr. D. O. Rochfort, accompanied by his sister Miss Cherry Rochfort, was in Prince Rupert en route from Stewart to their home in Victoria. Mr. Rochfort who is secretary, and one of the directors of the Stewart Land Co., spent most of his time during his visit north in exploring the upper reaches of the Naas Valley in the vicinity of Meziadin Lake, where the government has just completed a trail connecting it up with the end of the short line railroad at the Red Cliff mine.

Messrs. Chapple and Fallowfield, who have been away on a prospecting trip for the last week have returned more than satisfied with the result of their undertaking.

Be Suspicious

BE suspicious of that of which nobody is proud. Be suspicious of the mere low-price argument offered in favor of an article with no reputation, no backer, no guarantor.

Better buy the thing you know and can trust, than an article unbranded and unvouched for.

The branded shoe, made by a maker with a reputation, is a safer shoe to buy than the one made in an unknown factory by an unknown maker.

The underwear made by a firm whose name is as familiar to you as your own, is worth more to you than underwear nameless or labelled by a maker of whom you have never heard.

Tea sealed in a packet bearing the name of a reputable firm is to be preferred to tea of which the packer is not sufficiently proud to advertise its quality.

That in which much money has been invested to make or keep it good is worth more than that on which nothing or but little has been spent.

Peace of mind is worth something, just as quality is. Buy peace of mind.

When you buy anything worth while buying, buy that of which you know— from advertisements, or from other dependable acquaintance. Buy the article with the "money back" guarantee—with the pledge of a known name behind it.

Put your faith in the advertisements appearing in good newspapers. Beware of the article that cannot stand the spot-light of publicity. The commodity an advertiser backs with his own money is something worth your buying.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any good advertising agency or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lusden Building. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.
