RAINIER

Mayor P. J. Lester extended the greetings of the City of Prince Rupert and said that "we consider Prince Ruper a bridge between continental United States and the 49th state." He said that when the proposed marine highway system becomes a reality the link would be stronger, although the international capital-to-capital race helped strengthen ties between Americans and Canadians.

This morning 18 of the 19 boats which arrived Saturday afternoon left for Ketchikan, on the Prince Rupert to Junea, Alaska and final log of the race. The distance is 322 miles and the flotilla will stop at Ketchikan, Wrangell and Petersburg before reaching its destination.

Only 14 of the 18 were competing in the race. The Miss Kathy, owned by Dewey Estey of Portland, turned back at Alert Bay and didn't arrive here, but Les Simmers' Show Girl, which had to turn back on the Pender Harbor-Rupert leg, but nevertheless caught up and was first to berth Saturday afternoon, joined the last leg of the race.

The 60-foot Rhenania, owned by Dr. J. M. Spruenken of West Vancouver YC, hit a rock in Metlakatla Pass and damaged its propellor shaft and is in Prince Rupert Boatyards for repairs. It is expected she will be back in service tomorrow.

Other ships competing, their skippers, yacht club and, their margins of error are as follows:

Docsout, Dr. Edwin B. Chase, Everett YC, 4.385; For-O-Vus, G. A. Randall, Portland YC, 4.106; Jadon, Jack Rottler, Seattle and Queen City YC, 4.274; Dolphin Bay, A. T. Coffin, Tyee YC, Seattle, 4.274; Nelsie, Jim Moffett, Seattle YC, 4.390; Here's Howe, Allen Howe, Bremerton YC, 4.697; Namhar, C. R. Rahman, Bremerton YC, 5.593; Malecite, Bob Day, Royal Vancouver YC, 4.700; Off Shore, Wallis Hall, Vancouver, Wash. YC, 6.098; Mickey Fritz, Bob Fakler, Everett YC, 11.290.

Accompanying the racers were the Sunbeam, Alton Alexander, Portland YC; Quick Stream, H. L. McElhaney, Seattle; Rhenania, the 93-foot K-Thanga, of Pheonix, Arizona owned by Mr. and Mrs. Phillip E. Tovera; Scotch 'n Soda, C. R. (Bud) Steele, Rainier YC, Seattle.

Receiving thanks from racemaster Frank Morris was Hugo Kraupner of the local yacht club, who met the racers at Butedale with his 28-foot From Now On, and gave assistance and brought back messages and attended to other needs.

Before the dance to the six-piece orchestra began to conclude the evening, Dr. Large paid tribute to Dr. J. A. Macdonald and William G. Scuby for their work on the reception and banquet, Mrs. Scuby for flower arrangements and B.C. Packers and the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative association for donations of sea food.

"Borrowed" car earns two fines

A $50 fine was handed out to each of two youths by Magistrate E. T. Applewhaite, today in police court, when they pleaded guilty to charges of taking a car without the owner's consent.

Donald Nels Jensen of 220 Ninth Avenue East and Richard Earl Benson of 330 Second Avenue West were arrested early this morning by RCMP Constables, near Graham and Atlin avenues when they were found to be driving a vehicle owned by Harry Menzies of 552 Eighth Avenue East.

A check revealed that Menzies had loaned his car to an Edward Davies. Davies stated that he had not given permission to anyone to drive the vehicle.

Also in court was Marcelle Parrish, 20, of Prince George, who pleaded guilty to a charge of theft under $50 and was adjourned for sentencing until July 30 to allow time for a presentence report.

Peter Cullen of 943 First Avenue West was fined $10 when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving too close to another vehicle.

Phillip Sirois of no fixed address was given one month suspended sentence, ordered to post a $50 bond and to make restitution when he pleaded guilty to a charge of defrauding the Prince Rupert social welfare branch of $6.

World's richest woman thrilled

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Why should one of the richest women in the United States want a career as an actress?

"Because I love it," says Dina Merrill. "Because it's a challenge. Because I think it's good for me and good for my family."

Dina's father is E. F. Hutton. Her mother is Mrs. Merriweather Post of the cereal family. Her husband is industrialist Stanley Rumbough, Jr.

MOTHER OF THREE

The fact is that she is as enthusiastic about her career as any struggling starlet. And she has been parlaying one important film after another—from Operation Petticoat to The Sundowners to Butterfield 8. Now she's here to play Burt Lancaster's wife in A Matter of Conviction.

CUURTAIN LIFTED

SALZBURG, Austria (AP)—When Premier Khrushchev visited the Salzburg Music Festival theatre for a recent performance, a theatre official explained the stage design and said: "Now we are going to lift the iron curtain." Newspaper reporters chuckled but Khrushchev didn't bat an eye as the huge stage curtain of hammered metal was lifted.

Blackwood on BRIDGE

You will find it profitable to study and use the play Mr. Masters used in today's deal. It will add considerable strength to your defensive game.

Certain holdings are easier to lead from than others. Everybody feels safe leading the queen from Q J 10 9 or the king from K Q J 9, for example. And most players shy away from leading from a combination headed by ace-queen or ace-jack.

Mr. Masters not only led away from an ace-queen but he led the queen from that combination—and it was the only lead to beat the contract.

The opening lead was the deuce of hearts, the ten went on from dummy and Mr. Masters won with the ace. It seemed hopeless to continue this suit and he looked around for the killing shift.

Mr. Dale

Diamonds didn't look promising as Mr. Champion had bid the suit and there were four diamonds on the board. As to spades, there were two honors in dummy and Mr. Champion would have to hold the ace or the king or both for his two no trump call.

That left the club suit and Mr. Masters correctly decided this was the suit to attack. But what card in the suit should he lead? As you see, on a low club lead dummy's jack would win and the guarded king in the closed hand would then furnish an additional stopper.

On the lead of the ace and another club, again Mr. Champion would have two stoppers in the suit.

Mr. Masters' choice was to lead the queen of clubs and against this defence Mr. Champion was helpless. If he won with the king, Mr. Dale would return a club through dummy's jack when he got in with the ace of diamonds.

Mr. Champion decided to duck, hoping Mr. Dale had started with only two clubs. But Mr. Masters then led the trey and the defenders eventually got three clubs, a diamond and a heart.

Here is the way to remember this maneuver. When you have a card in dummy surrounded (as Mr. Masters' queen-ten of clubs surrounded dummy's jack) and you also have one higher card in the suit, lead as if the surrounded card were in your hand. In this case, Mr. Masters led as if his club holding were A Q J 10.
