Mrs. Sanderson Cooks Well

Mrs. K. Sanderson has quite a reputation as a cook in a town in the interior. One of our men heard of her and also hearing she uses Pacific Milk, went to see her.
Mrs. S. would talk abut Pacific Milk, says it is the only milk to use for cooking, but she would say nothing whatever about herself.

Happy Surprises

Recipe for Economical Mayonnaise

Take 4 tablespoonfuls olive oil, 4 tablespoonfuls fresh cream, 2 tablespoonfuls vinegar, 1 teaspoonful Colman's D.S.F. Mustard, sufficient salt and pepper to suit taste. Mix and beat quickly, the mixture will whiten in a few minutes, having the appearance of fine whipped cream, and the fineness of the best mayonnaise, besides having the advantage of requiring no eggs, never coagulating and being easily and quickly made.

Recipe for Chicken Salad

Cut the meat of a cold chicken in dices and put in a salad dish dressed with lettuce leaves, cover with the following mayonnaise:—
1 teaspoonful Colman's D.S.F. Mustard
1 hard boiled egg
A little vinegar
A pinch of salt and pepper
1 cup cream
Mix the mustard and vinegar together, add yolk of the egg finely mashed, then the salt and pepper. When the whole is perfectly blended, add the cream. If a more piquant mayonnaise is desired, a little more mustard should be added.

To the woman who likes variety in the daily menu, a tin of Colman's Mustard is a golden mine of possibilities for making appetizing dishes.

With Colman's Mustard she can prepare many different kinds of Dressings to give piquant novelty and appetizing relish to her Salads — she can add that delectable tid-bit to her sandwiches — she can deftly convert vegetables and fruits and left-over meats into dainty dishes that everyone will enjoy.

Colman's Free Recipe Book

gives many new recipes for Salads and Salad Dressings, Sandwiches, Meat and Fish Dishes, and for Pickles, Catsup and other relishes.
