Just Twenty Years Since Slashing Began.

Twenty years ago at about this date slashing the Prince Rupert townsite began but not much of it was done at that time. There was a little clearing made along the waterfront and up to about where the Canadian National general offices now stand. A stream rippled out from among the tall timbers and nature held sway.

It was about that time P. W. Anderson arrived and got to work making an impression on the prospective townsite.

Twenty years of struggle have passed. The forces of nature have been to a large extent overcome and a city is springing up here that promises to be as modern as any in the country in its appearance and facilities. Little by little the place will be built up. Step by step citizens will fight their way toward making it a port. One by one new institutions will be introduced and developed. It will take time to bring about the changes desired. Old timers will leave or die and new people will come and bring new energy, brains and money. We shall lose the group that want to clean up and go and we shall adopt a new spirit, that of stability and permanence.

Prince Rupert has a great destiny ahead of her. There will be prosperous times and dull times in rotation. They will follow each other as sure as one tide follows another. During prosperous times it is the wise thing to prepare for dull times. The scope of our activities will gradually widen and we shall eventually broaden out into citified ways.

Importance Of Ore Strike At Smithers.

An important ore strike has been made in one of the Duthie mines at Smithers which will give an impetus to other prospectors who are trying to develop their claims. The ore is galena, shot with ruby silver, and according to the report there seems to be a lot of it in the mine.

There is considerable activity on Hudson Bay Mountain this year and at Hazelton considerable work is proceeding. There should be a revival of activity in the Bulkley and Babine country soon which should tend to improve matters throughout the whole neighborhood.

Place Where People Are Doing Things.

Prince Rupert is a place where people do things. People who wish to do nothing go to Victoria or Califoruia. Just now reference is made to the excellent work of the little drill squad of twenty girls of the High School that has been trained by Alex. Mitchell. For a student of the school to undertake to drill a group of fellow students and to bring them to a degree of perfection equal to any in the province, is something to be proud of. We are glad to be able to express appreciation on behalf of the citizens of this work and hope there will be more personal endeavor here in developing the home product rather than in importing from the outside.

Still Looking To Peace River.

Prince Rupert must never cease looking toward Peace River. The opening up of that country should mean a great deal to us and we should use all our influence to have it developed by means of a railway. It is to be hoped that one of the big concerns will take on the work and that it will be so arranged that the output may come at least partly through this port. It is one of the next big things to which we have to look forward.

RAILWAYS OF PEACE RIVER

Premier Brownlee Says Matter Will Soon be Settled: Offer Made

EDMONTON, June 2.—That the railway problem in Alberta, which will seriously affect the railway problem of Northern British Colubbia will be settled soon is the opinion of Premier Brownlee, who has the matter in hand. In an address he said:

"In another month the provincial railways will be in our hands. We will then be in a position to either operate them ourselves or lease them to one of the transcontinental lines and we have already received offers from at least one of these lines, the terms of which will surprise the public of the province when they are divulged."

He went on to state that he was waiting a wire from Ottawa now that might go a long way toward settling the railway question, an observation, innocent in itself, but signifying to some who heard it a hint that the Canadian National lines stand well in line to take over the roads in the north.

In The Letter Box

BOY'S BAND.

Editor Daily News.

Under date of December 28 you were kind enough to publish a letter giving acknowledgement of donations received for the purpose of equipping the Boy's Band with instruments and paying its running expenses.

The Prince Rupert Rotary Club organized a concert and it will be interesting to those who generously contributed to know the results.

The gross amount received for selling tickets was.....$400.25

Expenses

Rent of Westholme Theatre	$150.00
Hire of costumes	24.00
Taxis for artistes	8.25
Printing programs and tickets	17.25
Advertising in newspapers	21.53
	221.03
Giving a surplus of	$179.22

We also wish to express the thanks of the Boy's Band for the following donations:

St. Patrick's Dance committee	$22.75
Knights of Pythias Dance committee	26.00
City of Prince Rupert	250.00

BURNS LAKE

S. G. Robinson has returned to Burns Lake after having spent the winter at Vernon and various points in Alberta.

Miss Lucy I. Pringle has arrived from Vancouver to take the position of superintendent of the Burns Lake Hospital. Miss A. R. W. Moore is seriously ill in the Hazelton Hospital.

Sidney Godwin, editor of the Burns Lake Observer, has returned here with his bride formerly Miss Kathleen Mary Inglis, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. Inglis of Gibson's Landing. The wedding took place quietly on May 17 at Gibson's Landing, Rev. R. C. Scott of Queen Charlotte City officiating.

Jack Martin and Eric Scaro have rented the S. Long ranch at Francois Lake for the year.

INDIFFERENCE TO RELIGION

Universities of United States Not Keen on Worship and One Aggressively Pagan

SURVEY OF COLLEGES

Washington State University Shows Real Antagonism Toward Church Says Dr. Lampe

BALTIMORE, June 1.—General indifference to religion by student bodies, with one pronounced "aggressively pagan," is reported in a survey of forty-seven leading universities presented to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church here yesterday.

The report was compiled by Dr. M. Willard Lampe, General Director of the Department of University Work, Presbyterian Board of Christian Education.

The Colorado School of Mines, where the "Mines Spirit," is given the extreme description, is pronounced "one of the most difficult centres for student work in the United States."

Unknown God

The Memorial Church of Leland Stanford Junior University is compared to the Bibical altar o "An Unknown God," while a number of the professors at the University of California are said to "depersonalize God."

The University of Michigan however, is pronounced fully cooperative, its activities including the complete support of a missionary and local religious work which is commended in the report.

The University of Illinois, the report states, is bereft of Chapel, religion and Bible, while the "attractions and distractions" of a city make work difficult at the University of Chicago.

Purdue University, in Indiana has "no philosophy or ethics or anything to suggest the spiritual side of life," the report continues, while materialistic tendencies are noted at the University of Kansas.

Is Respectable

Religion "has been made respectable on the campus," of the University of Montana, the report notes, while jumping to the University of Washington, Dr Lampe finds there is a certain amount "of real antagonism on the part of professors and students toward religion and the Church."

With these pronounced results of the survey, the report finds otherwise that there is no standard by which the general attitude o fthe schools can be measured, although the lack of facilities often is given as a reason for limited work among student bodies.

COMMUNITY PLATE WEEK

Prince Rupert---Fourth Day

The Brides of long ago wept over their wedding gifts — and then put them in the attic. They were nice—and expensive—but so impractical. Today Brides are more fortunate. Silverware is the gift of gifts — exquisite COMMUNITY PLATE. And now, too, it is the sensible custom for the bride's friends to club together and buy her complete table equipment. The individual outlay is low — and "she" gets the silverware she really wants — famous Community Plate.
