Hallowe'en UNICEF pennies benefits "all world's children"

Last year on Hallowe'en more than 200,000 Canadian young people in more than 1,000 communities across the country shared their Hallowe'en with UNICEF and "all the world's children."

Their accumulated gifts of pennies, nickels and dimes rang up the astounding total of $135,000!

More than half of the gifts were from school groups where the Hallowe'en celebrations were the climax of exciting educational preparations. To get ready for Hallowe'en the youngsters learned a great deal about geography, nutrition and hygiene, world folklore, medical projects and economic assistance.

From kindergarten to high school they participated in poster and essay contests, distributed flyers and shared their new-found knowledge with their parents and neighbours.

The excitement and disguises, the fun and frolic were the same, but those who shared their Hallowe'en with UNICEF knew that each penny collected could mean five large glasses of milk, anti-TB vaccine or some other badly needed aid for another child somewhere in the world.

One of the largest single gifts came from the students of Edith Cavell School in Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, whose preparations were pictured on the front cover of the September, 1958, issue of the Home and School magazine. This was their year of participation, in 1956 their gift totalled $75, in 1957, $163 and in 1958, $1,138.

Young Canadians have made "Hallowe'en for UNICEF" a nationwide, enthusiastic venture because, with a minimum of adult guidance, the whole project is really their own.

This Hallowe'en children's laughter will once more echo around the world.

The sponsoring Parent-Teacher Council asks Prince Rupert householders to help city children help the world's children through UNICEF this Hollowe'en which for the first time is staging "Hallowe'en for UNICEF" in the area.

FRIDAY NIGHT AT BOOTH

Annual international dinner proceeds for PTA bursary

A sumptuous meal followed by a pleasant musical program will be offered city residents Friday night when Parent-Teacher associations of Prince Rupert stage the "International Dinner", under the sponsorship of the Secondary Schools PTA.

Plans for the function were reported upon last week when the PT council held its first meeting of the season in the Civic Centre with president Mrs. A. J. Bussanich, presiding.

The dinner to be held in the Booth Memorial junior high school, under the convership of Mrs. Adolf Steigleder and Mrs. G. P. Patzold will begin at 6:45 p.m.

All funds go towards the PTA bursary.

It was announced that bursaries of $400 each this year were awarded to Miss Yuki Nakatsuka and Miss Gailya Grimolfson.

In other business Mr. Steigleder reported that all schools were taking part in the School Accident Insurance scheme and pointed out that the insurance gives many extra benefits.

Reporting on "Hallowe'en UNICEF", sponsored by the council, Mrs. T. A. Johnstone stressed the fact that participation in this plan was strictly voluntary.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. A. L. Bell and Mrs. Arthur Logan for their excellent leadership course given to PTA executive members early in October.

The council once again announced its concern over pictures which are classed as "Adult Entertainment Only" being shown at the children's matinees.

"Some of the pictures which have been shown since the issue was last investigated are daring even for adults," the president said.

Mrs. P. O. Brass was appointed publicity chairman.

Following a very interesting talk by social worker Miss Sissener Hutchins, who spoke on the urgent need for foster homes and a receiving home, the council decided to assist the welfare department in having a receiving home in operation in the near future.

AT PORT EDWARD SCHOOL

PTA outlines Hallowe'en party, UNICEF pennies taken to school

Plans for a Hallowe'en party were outlined Wednesday night when the Port Edward Parent-Teacher association held its regular meeting with president Miss Joan Taselaar in the chair.

The party to begin at 6:30 p.m. will see children dressed in costumes, given a prize of one silver dollar. There will be balloons and suckers for pre-schoolers, soft drinks and hot-dogs will be given out in the ball park and a fire works display will be staged, it was reported.

It was decided that each child should bring their spending money for one day to be put in UNICEF cans which will be deposited in the class rooms and will be picked up by the committee after Hallowe'en.

In other business it was announced that Diane Hayashi was the winner of the PTA poster contest this month and will be presented with her $2 prize money at the next meeting.

Following a pre - primary school report, it was decided that the committee look into the possibility of raising the fees in order to off-set the rental.

Discussing the problem child, who causes trouble going to and coming from kindergarten, it was decided that the parents of these children would be asked to withdraw them from school or accompany them to school each day.

The Council delegate's report noted that PTAs were asked to join the local film board and the Civic Centre and pointed out that the Council is investigating why children 16 and under are allowed to attend the adult films and why children may attend showings after 9:30 p.m.

Miss Taselaar was nominated to be representative on the bursary committee.

Regarding the changing of the meeting nights, suggested by the Booth Memorial PTA, it was announced that the Port Edward PTA had already changed it meeting night once to accommodate Booth Memorial PTA and suggested that Booth change its night.

It was decided that the teachers would put on the Christmas concert this year.

The night's program consisted of a film showing entitled "The Human Body," followed by a short talk by Public Health Nurse Miss Mary Small.

A health display of work done by the pupils was open to parents for inspection, followed by the serving of coffee and doughnuts.
