BARREN LANDS ENDLESS WATER ASSERTS FLYER

Colin Caldwell, Who Was Here Last Year, Tells of His Air Operations North of Edmonton

EDMONTON, July 24.— Colin Caldwell, manager of flying operations for the Northern Syndicate, Ltd., operating out of Fort Fitzgerald, was on a brief visit to the city this week to obtain repairs for his machine

Speaking of the operations of his plane Mr. Caldwell said it was a Vickers-Viking amphibious with a Napier 450 h.p. motor He had flown from Lac la Biche, where the machine was assembled, to Fort Fitzgerald, a distance of 500 miles, in four hours and 45 minutes on June 26. Since that time he has flown 4,000 miles. His work is flying over unmapped territory in the vicinity of Great Slave Lake, but he said his business was purely flying and he did not know what the objective of his company was.

Water Everywhere

Mr. Caldwell declared he had never seen so much water as there is in the area being explored and that he could shut his eyes and land safely on water at any time. He was of the opinion that it would be impossible to map the country by any means other than aeroplane.

Asked if he had been in the famous "tropical valley" in northern B.C., Mr. Caldwell said he had and that it lies between the Liard and Findlay rivers. There are a number of hot springs which remain open all the year round. The vegetation resembles that of the Pacific coast and moose, bear and bull frogs but no prehistoric animals abound. The soil is sandy and he was there in the spring and had some potatoes planted the previous year by a man named Smith, who was later drowned in the Liard River rapids.

REGINALD DENNY AS SKINNER IS SUPERB

Comedy This Week End at Westholme Shows How People Run Into Debt

Reginald Denny, as Skinner, in "Skinner's Dress Suit" is superb. The famous star, submerges his real character into that of the harassed, forlorn Skinner, besieged at every turn by inexorable creditors and trying frantically to live up to the world's opinion of him as broadcast by his wife.

The story is about a poor, little lie and the complications brought about by its perpetration. Skinner, upon the constant instigation of his wife, "Honey," summons enough courage to ask his employer for an increase in salary. It is refused.

Rather than disappoint "Honey," Skinner tells her that he was granted the raise which supposedly amounted to ten dollars a week. Overjoyed, "Honey," proceeds to spend the raise in advance from their small savings. She tells all her neighbors of her husband's good fortune and social invitations begin to overwhelm them.

"Honey" compels Skinner to buy a new dress suit. That requires accessories. Then they must know how to comport themselves in their social status and they have to have new furniture and home fittings. They take dancing lessons. Other expenses arise.

Soon they are hopelessly in debt, which Skinner desperately tries to conceal from his happily unsuspecting wife. The situations are as funny as any that have ever been filmed. There is good clean comedy all through the picture and an interesting story unfolds itself upon the screen.

Too much praise cannot be given the star, likewise lovely Laura LaPlante, whose golden smile is bewitching in the character of "Honey," the ambitious and sprightly young matron.

The film was shown at the Westholme Theatre last night and will be repeated this evening.

The Natural Place

She had been moaning for half-an-hour about her imaginary illness.

"And then, doctor," she said at last, "I hear such strange sounds in my ears."

"Well, madam," said the tired physician, "where else would you expect to hear them?"

LANGUAGE OF MOTHERS NOT GOOD EXAMPLE

LONDON, July 24.— Bad language of the modern mother is responsible for a great deal of loose speech among school girls, Miss Mary Morrison, principal of the Francis Holland school for girls told the annual conference o fthe Head Mistresses' Association here.

"For years we have made allowance for father's strong language," Miss Morrison asserted, "but now mother is nearly as bad and it is having a serious effect on the girls' speech among themselves. This is all a part of the so-called greater freedom."

Rev. W. H. Redman, formerly of Prince Rupert, has closed his services as pastor of the Douglas Street Baptist Church, Victoria.

BIG DEMAND FOR CANS IN SOUTH

Canneries in This District Keeping Factory in Vancouver Very Busy.

VANCOUVER, July 24.—Exceptionally big demand for cans from canneries of the north, keeping the American Can Company's plant in Vancouver operating 20 hours a day ,is prophetic of a great northern salmon pack this year, it is learned locally.

"The run of fish may not be much greater this season, and in fact it is lighter than last year so far as the present season has gone, but the canneries are out to catch the fish this season and have considerably more gear afloat," a close observer of the salmon fishing industry reported.

"In the Queen Cahrlottes the pack will probably be heavier than last year. The pinks did not run in the Charlotte streams last season and they are due to run this year."

Prices to fishermen have been well maintained and are encouraging a large number to go into the industry.

The season will not be fully under way for a few weeks yet.

GRIFFITHS' YACHT WAS ON DRY DOCK

Seattle Power Yacht Continues Voyage to Alaska After Undergoing Repairs Here.

The fine big power cruiser Sueja III which belongs to Capt. Griffiths, head of the Coastwise Steamship & Barge Co., and which is taking Capt. Griffiths and party on a cruise to Alaska, arrived in port Thursday evening and, after going on dry dock to have her propeller straightened out, sailed this afternoon continuing her voyage north. The Sueja III was only built during the past winter and she is said to be one of the finest yachts in Puget Sound.

Reginald Denny
— in —
"Skinner's Dress Suit"

Delightful, whimsical, stimulating, breezy farce put up in the best Denny fashion. You'll roar when you see him build a fortune out of a dress suit he didn't want and hadn't paid for. He broke into society with it and a "line" that would have knocked the original circus barber and patent medicine man unconscious with admiration.

"Clothes Make the Man" is a world famous proverb which grew out of a remark made by Mr. Skinner when he hired a dress suit. See the "Savannah Shuffle." A paralytic rheumatic step that has taken the country by storm. It has the Charleston backed off the map. Strong cast.
