RICH MARKET HERE—

Income and Spending Here Above Level of Most Canadian Cities

NEW YORK (Special to the News) — Prince Rupert stands out as a rich market, with income and spending at a level above that of most other cities in Canada. This is brought out in a new, copyrighted survey of buying power, prepared by Sales Management, covering all sections of Canada and the United States.

The high standard of living prevailing in Prince Rupert is indicated by the volume of retail business done in the past year. The local stores registered a sales total of $9,801,000, which was well above the city's quota. On the basis of its population it should have accounted for only .0730 percent of Canada's business. Actually, however, it did .1127 percent.

The ability of local families to spend more was made possible by better incomes. The 2,900 families in Prince Rupert attained a gross income of $11,020,000 in 1949. Dividing the one by the other yields a per family income of $3,800, which is higher than the $3,443 figure for Canada as a whole and than the $3,472 earned per family in British Columbia.

The earnings locally marked a gain over the previous year when the average per family was $3,489. During the same period inconme nationally dropped 5.6 percent per family.

After analyzing Prnce Rupert as to population, income, sales and other significant factors, the survey assigns to it a "quality of market" index of 130. This rating sets it 30 percent above the nation as a whole in sales potential.

The OLD MASTER PAINTER says...

FALL'S THE TIME FOR OUTSIDE PAINTING

The weather's settled in Fall, that's why. The wood has had all summer to dry out and the stage is set for a first-class job. You see, it's moisture in the wood that causes so many paint failures—especially in new houses where the wood is not properly seasoned or the inside plaster dry. Let your new house stand a month or two before painting. If you paint before all moisture has dried, the moisture pushes its way out behind the paint, pushing the paint off with it.

A good first coater is most important. You can't do a good paint job over a poor foundation. Remove all old damaged paint, repair leaks and cracks before you start.

It's your house. Paint it right!

For larger jobs, call a paint contractor!

Scotswomen Want Babies At Home

WINNIPEG. — In Scotland a great many women still prefer to have their babies at home, says Dr. Charlotte Douglas of Edinburgh.

Dr. Douglas, visiting Winnipeg, is medical officer for maternal and child welfare in the Scottish Department of Health.

She said that under the Scottish health set-up, women are given the choice of going into a hospital or of staying at home.

"Unless there is a good medical reason why they should go into a hospital, they may remain in their own homes," Dr Douglas said. And a great many do.

Billy Scuby is chairman of the canvassing committee and had the members assigned in pairs to carry out a snappy job.

Politics "Cinch" Declares Woman

PORT ARTHUR (P)—Mrs. Eunice Beaver Wishart, only woman alderman in northwestern Ontario, says the political field is a "cinch" for any married woman—providing she has a tolerant husband.

Once hubby is won over to the idea of his wife entering politics, she says, all that is needed is access to some money for campaign expenses, boundless energy and a liking for long hours. Then you support whatever issues are close to the housewives' purses and you are a cinch to be elected.

Mrs. Wishart became interested in the possibility of running for public office while working on the Port Arthur Wartime Prices and Trade Board. She ran for city council three years ago and was elected the first time out.

The lady alderman and her male colleagues didn't hit it off right at the beginning. She was quoted as saying some of the aldermen were "so narrow-minded that their ears almost touched," and there were repercussions.

Now in her third term, she finds the city fathers have "mellowed" and consider her an alderman and not a woman intruding on municipal affairs.

MORE SOPRANOS NEEDED

"Women think of little things that men cannot comprehend," observes Mrs. Wishart, explaining why she thinks more women's voices are needed in running the country.

"They are less materialistic and more humanitarian. Most of us are mothers and we think in terms of flesh-and-blood when it comes to matters like welfare and schools."

Two of her pet topics are conservation of the vast pulpwood forests in the lakehead and the beauty of the Port Arthur district as a tourist attraction.

A neat, conscientious housewife, she keeps her big, old-fashioned home spic and span although sometimes attending as many as four council meetings a day. For housewives thinking of entering politics she offers this tip:

"I live only a block away from city hall and I can leave supper cooking in the oven and drop over for a 4:30 p.m. committee meeting and get back in time to have supper ready."

And what does Mr. Wishart think of his wife's public career?

"If you want a lot of free time, nominate the wife for civic office," is his advice. 'She'll be too tired to ask questions when she comes home after a busy day at city hall."
