700-Foot Wall One Man's Work

LONDON (AP) — A new embankment, built on the south bank of the Thames River for the 1951 Festival of Britain, can just be called the wall that Jack built.

Its construction was almost wholly a one-man job. Every piece of granite in the 1,700-foot stretch of wall from Waterloo Bridge to the London County Council building was laid by Jack Datson, a Cornish mason.

Datson handled more than ,000 tons of granite and finished his job four months ahead of time.

"It took 80 masons to cut enough stone to keep me going," he said.

The wall, which cost $250,000 ($775,000) in materials alone, will serve as frontage for the festival's exhibition and concert hall. It will also mark another phase in a favorite project of Herbert Morrison, deputy Prime Minister—to clean up the south bank of the Thames, long a London eyesore.

. . . eight days and over 4,000 miles long

ARMY WEEK

Sept. 17 to 24

This "parade" will take place in cities and towns of all ten Provinces. On display will be Canada's Army. These are some of the men who stand ready to defend the freedom of Canada and democratic nations everywhere against aggression.

Take this opportunity to meet and salute Canada's men in the Active and Reserve Forces. Visit the public exhibits and demonstrations in your district. You will be proud of the men and machines that make up Canada's Army.

At the same time you will probably realize the need for more men, more equipment. You will understand why Canada is now doing everything possible to strengthen our Active and Reserve Forces — why we are asking young Canadians from coast-to-coast to visit their nearest Recruiting Depot or Armoury at once.
